GUAM MURDER SUSPECT HELD

Question Texas Man in Slaying of Fiancee of Hardin County Man.

GUAM, Dec. 20—(INS)—Guam police reported tonight they have taken into custody Terriel Meshew of San Antonio, Tex., for investigation in the assault-murder of Ruth Farnsworth.

The pretty former WAC, known as "the most beautiful girl on Guam," was engaged to marry Sterling McGinnis, a marine corps sergeant from Roundhead, O., in Hardin county.

Police said that blood stained trousers and a towel with lipstick smears were found in his locker in Camp Piti, a residence of civilian employes of Guam.

Meshew was understood to be a former civilian worker on the island who had been discharged recently.

Blood on Clothing

His roommate, John Green of Los Angeles, told police that Meshew came in the morning after the attack on Miss Farnsworth with blood on his trousers.

Police reported Green told them that Meshew said he had "been in a fight with a woman" and expressed the desire to hide out "until the heat is off."

Green related that Meshew was not wearing a shirt and borrowed one from him. He said that two men waited outside in an automobile with the motor running.

Police found lewd pictures in Meshew's locker in addition to the blood-stained trousers and the lipstick-smeared towel. The shirt Meshew wore has not been found as yet.

Fired from Job

Meshew was understood to have been fired from his civilian job on Guam, and was working only to obtain money to go home.

He had been missing since the murder but was taken into custody by police Saturday night.

Miss Farnsworth, a beautiful civilian employe of the U. S. Navy on Guam, was found dying in the jungle a short distance from the curio shop where she had a part-time job.

She had been missing since Saturday night and was found two days later, on Monday of last week—brutally beaten and criminally assaulted. She died the following day in the U. S. military hospital.

Miss Farnsworth, 27, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Farnsworth of San Francisco. She had planned to return to San Francisco in the sprung to marry Marine Sgt. Sterling McGinnis, also stationed on Guam.

She had been working evenings in the curio shop to earn money for her trousseau.

Investigators said her torn clothing and general condition indicated she had put up a terrific struggle against her attackers.

She died without regaining consciousness, making it impossible to question her for any clews as to the identity of the men who assaulted her.

U. S. Court Turns Down Japs' Plea

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—(AP)—The supreme court today refused to interfere with the international military tribunal which condemned former Premier Tojo and six other Japanese war lords to death.

The court by a vote of 6-1 decided it had no authority over the 11-nation tribunal.

With this decision the supreme court turned down requests by convicted Japanese wartime officials that it:

1. Consider their appeals;
2. Declare the international tribunal illegal;
3. Order their immediate release.

The refusal presumably seals the doom of Tojo and the other six who were sentenced to die on the gallows. General MacArthur confirmed their sentences, but stayed the executions until the supreme court acted.

Justice Rutledge reserved decision at this time and said announcement of his vote would be made later on. Justice Jackson took no part in the final vote.

The other six members of the high court — Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Black, Reed, Frankfurter, Douglas and Burton—said in a brief, unsigned opinion:

"We are satisfied that the tribunal sentencing these petitioners is not a tribunal of the United States.

"The United States and other allied countries conquered and now occupy and control Japan. General Douglas MacArthur has been selected and is acting as the supreme commander for the allied powers The military tribunal sentencing these petitioners (the Japanese) has been set up by General MacArthur as the agent of the allied powers.

"Under the foregoing circumstances the courts of the United States have no power or authority to review, to affirm, set aside or annul the judgments and sentences imposed on these petitioners and for this reason the motions for leave to file petitions for writ for habeas corpus are denied."

The opinion, called technically a "per curiam" opinion, presumably was written by Chief Justice Vinson. The chief justice ordinarily writes such opinions.

REJECT PETITION TO DISSOLVE DISTRICT

Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy Court Rules Against Proposal.

The Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy district court today dismissed a petition asking that the district be dissolved and instructed district officials to go ahead with their over-all conservancy plan, The United Press dispatch from Columbus reported.

E. W. Dillon, Columbus attorney representing the district, told the court that the over-all plan would be submitted to the court by December, 1949. A partial plan, he said, will be submitted in May, 1949.

The petition asking that the 17-county conservancy district be dissolved was filed a year ago by Mr. and Mrs. David Sears of near Upper Sandusky. They contended that there was no need for the district and that it should be dissolved.

Dillon argued, and the court agreed, that the conservancy court has no authority to dissolve the district at present because the district already has spent $130,000 developing the over-all conservancy plan. Dillon argued that the court previously had ruled that any petition to dissolve the district could not be acted on until after the over-all plan had been submitted and either approved or disapproved by the court.

The district board of directors planned to recommend to the court this afternoon that E. P. Bearce be re-appointed to the board. His term has expired. Bearce has served as chairman of the board.

DUTCH DRIVE ON UNCHECKED

Advance Through Indonesian Republic Ahead of Occupational Time Table.

BATAVIA, JAVA, Dec. 20—(AP)—Dutch forces continued to roll unchecked through Indonesia today in what so far has been an almost bloodless occupation.

In Java the Dutch raced ahead of their own time table yesterday when airborne troops took the Republican capital of Jogjakarta in the first hours of fighting.

Dutch casualty figures show they are meeting little Indonesian resistance.

Netherlands army headquarters said so far six Dutch soldiers have been killed and eight wounded in both Java and Sumatra. Three Dutch were wounded in the Jogjakarta seige, the report said.

A Dutch communique said virtually all the [illegible] Republican leaders were in Netherlands custody. Among those taken were Dr. Soekarno, president of the Republic, Premier Mohammed Hatta, Foreign Minister Agus Salim, former Premier Sutan Sjahrir, and Gen. Soedirman, commander of the Republican army.

The Dutch also announced that their forces had broken through old truce lines at several points in Java and Sumatra.

The Indonesian government, before Jogjakarta's fall, branded the Dutch land, sea and air offensive as a "dastardly" attack, comparable to the Japanese assault on Pearl Harbor.

Dutch authorities have described their offensive as "police action" against Indonesian terrorists.

Other Dutch units thrust through Sumatra's rich rubber-producing area occupying Rantau Prapat on the shores of lake Toba. They also occupied the Wingfoot estate. The Dutch forces were within 100 miles of Medan, major city in North Sumatra.

STORY OF RED MURDER TOLD BY CHAMBERS

General Krivitsky Slain, Says Ex-Communist Courier in Interview.

WESTMINSTER, Md., Dec. 20—(INS)—Whittaker Chambers declared today that Gen Walter Krivitsky, Communist underground leader, was murdered in Washington in 1941 because he had broken with the Soviet union.

Chambers, in an interview at his Maryland farm, disclosed that for more than a year he sheltered Krivitsky's widow, Tonia, and her son, Alek, because they feared they had been marked for Red vengeance

Krivitsky perished of a bullet wound in a Washington hotel room. Police officially labeled the case suicide. But Chambers insisted that Krivitsky was slain by Communist agents

Chambers, central figure in the current Communist espionage case which has resulted in indictment of Alger Hiss, former state department official, told the Baltimore News-Post

"Krivitsky was my friend. I am certain that he was killed by agents of the Red underground. Before he was murdered in Washington there had been an attempt to assassinate him in Paris."

Called "Old Bolshevik"

Chambers, former senior editor of Time magazine says Krivitsky was an "old Bolshevik" who took part in the 1917 revolution and became an officer in the Red army in 1920. Later, Chambers went on, Krivitsky was named head of the Communist underground in western Europe.

Unfolding the Krivitsky story further, Chambers declared:

"Krivitsky's second in command was a man named Ignatz Reiss, who became disillusioned and decided to break with Moscow. Reiss showed Krivitsky a personal letter he sent to Stalin, which began:

"To the murderer of the Kremlin's cellars—I am returning my decorations and resuming my liberty of action . . ."

"A short time after Reiss sent the letter to Stalin, he was murdered."

Met Levine

Chambers said that after Krivitsky came to the United States, he was put in touch with Isaac Don Levine, anti-Communist editor, and that Krivisky, in a 14-hour non-stop conversation with Levine, described the workings of the Red underground.

After Krivitsky was found dead, a bullet hole in his head, Chambers said the general's widow and the son sought refuge with the Chambers family, first in Florida and later on two Maryland farms.

Chambers refused to disclose the present whereabouts of Mrs. Krivitsky and her son, who is now 16. He said he fears they still are marked for murder by the Red underground.

Report Single Control Planned for Agencies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—(AP)—The administration not only aims to tighten laws against spying but also seeks to put the government's 20-odd intelligence agencies under unified control.

This was brought out today by two reports which disclosed

▶That a drive has been under way since last spring to coordinate varied home-front efforts to protect the nation against spies, saboteurs and other subversive activities

▶A presidential commission for some months—has been studying operations of the central intelligence agency which evaluates military and diplomatic reports from abroad.

The administration moves apparently pre-date the current dispute between the White House and the house un-American activities committee.

President Truman repeatedly has labeled the committee's often-sensational spy investigation as "red herring," committee members contend that they are bring-

New York Hard Hit By Near-Record Snowfall

NEW YORK, Dec 20—(AP)—Millions struggled to work today through 10.5 inches of snow that blanketed the metropolitan area.

The snowfall—only an inch and a half less than the great blizzard of 1888—left some people snowbound in the suburban areas.

Many commuter buses and some railroad service were tied up by snow-clogged roads and rails.

Subways and elevated lines were operating near normal, however, and surface transportation in the center of the city kept moving, although slowed.

The Long Island Railroad, which was paralyzed by the record snowfall of 23.8 inches last Dec. 26 and 27, announced at 6:30 a. m. the cancellation of 24 regular morning rush-hour trains to allow operation of snow-removal trains.

The important commuter line had met increasing difficulties in the early morning hours, caused by mechanical failures of equipment and drifting snow

The snow, which started falling in the city at 6:20 a. m. yesterday, began to abate at 8 p. m. and ended at 2.10 a. m today.

The storm, which roared up the Atlantic coast with high winds, was moving farther out to sea today after sweeping much of the northeast and giving many sections their heaviest snowfall of the season.

Areas hit included large parts of New York state, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New England, Maryland, Virginia, the District of Columbia, and West Virginia.

The storm closed the metropolitan area's three major airports—LaGuardia Field, New York International airport and Newark (N. J.) airport.

Schools were closed today in some metropolitan area suburbs and in other states.

A number of deaths here and elsewhere were blamed on the storm, most of them from overexhaustion.

A forecast of clearing weather and above-freezing temperatures today gave hope that the city's force of almost 20,000 snow removal men with their thousands of trucks, plows and other apparatus would make quick work of the third heaviest fall in New York's history.

Mayor William O'Dwyer who held an emergency meeting with key officials yesterday marshalled all the city's facilities to cope with the storm

AVALANCHES BLOCK WASHINGTON ROADS

SEATTLE, Dec 20—(AP)—Avalanches of rain-loosened snow erected an icy barrier on Washington's main east-west highways today, blocking surface travel over the Cascade mountains. The slides occurred during a storm that whipped in from the north Pacific yesterday, disrupting communications and snarling traffic in Washington and British Columbia. The storm was accompanied by rising temperatures which kept the rain from turning to snow except on high points

The programs will be heard from the Marion county courthouse and amplified over a sound system.

At various times throughout the day, recordings of the Christmas music are being played over the sound system, originating from the treasurer's office.

The two groups are the Eastside Mothersingers, directed by Mrs Warren J. Wise, who will be heard at 7:30 p. m., and the Serenaders, directed by L. G Jones, who will be heard at 8:30 p. m.

The Eastside Mothersingers, a group of 28 which has been active for the past 15 years, has five charter members who are still active in the organization. Mrs. Wise has directed the group for seven years

The Serenaders, which also has 28 members, was organized by a group of Marion men about a year ago. Original organizers were Paul Hunt, John Waddell, Dr. Frederick W. Rea, L. G. Jones and Robert T. Mason.

Plans are, underway for two other Marion groups to sing special programs from the courthouse as a part of the project on Thursday night. Robert Kramer is chairman of the Y Men's committee in charge.

DISTINGUISHED ACTOR DIES

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Dec. 20—(INS)—Sir C. Aubrey Smith, 85, distinguished British actor of stage and screen, died early today at his home in Beverly Hills. Sir Aubrey, a native of London, had been an actor for 56 years, making his debut in 1892 after touring Australia and South Africa with championship cricket teams. He made his first motion picture in 1918.

TWO BUSINESS HOUSES BURNED OUT IN BLAZE

Seed Company and Garage Destroyed in Early Morning Fire.

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD, Dec 20—Fire thought to have been caused by defective wiring leveled two business houses and damaged a third here early Sunday with loss estimated by Mt. Gilead Fire Chief Melvin Geyer at $100,000.

It was the worst to hit Mt. Gilead since the $300,000 Florence Pottery company fire in 1941.

Discovered at 3:15 a. m. in the Denton Seed House located on West Center street within a block of the center of the town, the fire swept into the adjoining Myers and Strain automobile agency and garage and threatened the next building, the Lawyer Implement Store before being brought under control two hours later.

Fire companies from Galion, Edison, Cardington and the Marion Engineer Depot were summoned to fight the flames which for a time threatened the two adjoining blocks in the business district

The blaze was brought under control about 7:30 a. m. only after both the Denton Seed House and the Myers and Strain agency, local Dodge and Plymouth distributors, were gutted and minor damage from the intense heat sustained by the Lawyer Implement company.

Several Firemen Hurt

Several firemen were cut by flying glass but none suffered serious injury in fighting the fire subdued through the efforts of from 30 to 50 firemen from departments in four neighboring communities. Other than Galion, all companies represented were volunteer departments coming to the assistance of the one-truck Mt. Gilead department.

The Denton Seed House was virtually a total loss, the two-story brick building swept from front to rear. What little of the walls remained up yesterday morning were pulled down by firemen to eliminate hazards of falling brick.

The business was operated by Goorley Denton and his son Richard and until a year or so ago had been known as the U. J. Cover Seed House. The Dentons had operated the business about three years. They indicated that in addition to the building, about $30,000 in stock went up in the fire. The loss is covered by insurance.

Three Cars Burn

The Myers and Strain agency, a one-story brick and concrete building immediately adjoining the Seed store to the west likewise was demolished. Three partially wrecked cars in the garage for repairs were destroyed. Firemen were able to remove several other cars and some garage equipment before being driven out by the heat. The rest went up in flames including all of the larger automotive repair equipment and stock.

Firemen were hampered by the intense heat and billowing smoke created by the large amount of dry seed and grain stocks stored in the Denton company premises. By playing a virtually constant stream on the Lawyer Implement store next door, they were able to keep the fire within bounds of the two buildings destroyed. The farm implement store is separated from the automobile agency by about a foot of freeway. Although severely scorched and seared by the intense heat, the building escaped serious damage. Although preparations were made to evacuate the building, efforts of firemen in checking the spread of the blaze were successful enough to ascertain that the building could be saved.

The intense heat shattered windows however, not only there but at the nearby Eagles Hall, a three-story brick building, one of the several in that section of the business district threatened for a time before firemen brought the blaze under control.

Fire Draws Crowd

Despite the early hour several hundred spectators thronged the fire scene, attracted by the arrival in town of fire apparatus speeding to Mt. Gilead from neighboring communities. Although not on the main street, the buildings destroyed were located only a half block west of route 42 and a block south of route 95. The main section of the business district is separated from the fire scene by a narrow alley bordering the east side of the Denton building.

Interruption of water pressure from the municipal system or more headway before being discovered could have taken the fire into the heart of the town, it was pointed out. Despite low nozzle pressure as firemen coupled lines to nearly all available hydrant facilities, water supply was adequate, they said.

Chief Geyer indicated defective wiring was the cause of the fire

OHIO DECKED OUT IN SNOW

Whether "White Christmas" Look Will Remain Is in Doubt, However.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20—(UP)—Ohio was decked out with that "white Christmas" look today, but it still was up to Old Man Winter to decide whether the heavy blanket of snow over the state would last until the 25th.

U S. weather observers said the season's heaviest snow so far in Ohio ranged anywhere from nearly a half foot deep in the central and western sections to one inch in the southern portion. Snow continued to fall in Dayton and Columbus early today where it already had piled up to a depth of five inches.

The weatherman said there was "no real cold in store, and if anything, the trend is toward a little warmer." He promised cloudy and mild weather today with a high of 37. The forecast for Tuesday was cloudy and milder followed by rain or snow by night.

The sudden change in the weather appeared to have checked the threat of floods in the southern part of the state. The state highway patrol reported that only seven roads were closed in spots by high water compared to 12 or more Saturday.

Observers at Cincinnati said the Ohio river hit a 50-foot level yesterday, just two feet short of flood stage. They added that although the river was still rising, it was coming up so slowly that there was no serious danger of a flood.

In Portsmouth, high water cut off the "Y" road between West Portsmouth and the city proper. Traffic was re-routed through Lucasville. The Ohio river climbed to 46.6 feet at Portsmouth, some three feet below flood level.

Highway patrolmen said that most roads throughout the state were "not too bad," although many were still slippery in spots. No drifting of consequence was reported. They said all main highways were open to travel, except those cut off by high water

The northern part of the state appeared to have escaped the brunt of the heavy snowfall that started late Saturday. Canton, Akron, Toledo and Cleveland each reported two-inch deep snow

Peace, Prosperity Top Christmas Wishes in Marion, Reporter Finds

By GEORGE SCOTT
Marion Star Staff Writer

"WHAT do you want for Christmas?"

This is the question that every year at this time Marion residents see more sweating of heads over. World peace and prosperity won't "What's Right with the World" Just about all the persons asked had to stop and ponder on the answer.

It undoubtedly asked more question The next most popular answer was either, "I can't decide" or "I don't know."

• • •

MISS NAOMI BECKEL, secretary at the Marion County schools office, summed up the wishes of the majority of persons asked She said, "I'd like to see people follow the true Christmas spirit—peace on earth and good will toward men

Herman Miller of 443 South Main street, a city councilman echoed Miss Beckel's words by saying he would want both happiness and world peace

Others hoped for the return of loved ones on Christmas Eve, as in the case of Marilyn and Martha McGinnis of 767 East Center street. The twin girls, both students at St Mary High school, said their brotner is a doctor in California and won't be able to come home for Christmas 'But we can hope,' they said.

• • •

ONE WOMAN who refused to give her name said she would ask for a world with no alarm clocks and a fellow in love mentioned a girl's name

'A new sled or better yet maybe a job," said Jack Bishop, halfback of the Harding High school football team Of course his mention of a sled is just a gag but if he should get one it would have to be a good one to match Jack's speed as a halfback.

Bert Rizor of 987 North State street said he couldn't think of anything he wanted. "I'm well satisfied," he said.

William Winterhoff of 233 Ballentine avenue said, "There is talk that the Universal Cooler will be calling back its employes just after Christmas. What I would want more than anything else is my job back at the Cooler."

• • •

SOME OF THE PERSONS interviewed were easily satisfied. One young women wanted nothing more than a steam attachment for her electric iron—so she said. Perhaps she had someone in mind.

Many others were harder to please They asked for various amounts of money from $1,000,000 and up.

G. H. Patterson of near Caledonia asked for something almost as hard to get—a new car.

The quickest, most emphatic answer was given by three boys, Bill Seward and Harry Lynch of the Twn Oaks Trailer camp and Robert Morris of Bryant street. They said almost in unison, "No more school!"

The Army is stirring up more debate on the canal question. Recently, this subject has been coming up as often as hash on a boardinghouse menu. The Army is calling for re-modeling Panama into a sea-level canal. This would get rid of the locks that are as vulnerable as a quarterback wearing snow-shoes. The proposed canal would be large enough for all our big new ships to churn through. At the same time the Army wants another canal through some part of Latin America . . . maybe in Nicaragua. While we're not looking for trouble, trouble has a habit of finding people who aren't quite ready.

POLICE REPORT 7 ACCIDENTS

One Child Hurt; School Bus in Minor Mishap Near Edison.

Marion police reported seven traffic accidents, one of which was caused by slippery streets, over the weekend. A school bus accident was the only traffic mishap reported by the state highway patrol.

In the state there were six traffic injuries including Rex Bell, 6, of Mansfield. He died in a Norwalk hospital of injuries received when his car slid into a large stone monument near his home. His wife suffered slight injuries, according to an Associated Press report.

Ice pavement was responsible for a collision between an Edison village school bus and a truck on route 95 four miles west of Mt. Gilead at 7:45 a. m. this morning, the highway patrol reports. Only two children were on the bus and damage was slight.

Bus Is Damaged

The bus driven by Everett Worline of near Mt. Gilead was headed west and the truck driven by Alexander Bradcovich of Warwood, W. Va., was traveling east when the collision occurred. Sandra Williams, 12, of Edison and her brother Jerry Williams, 7, were passengers on the bus. The left side of the bus was slightly damaged.

Richard Thomas, 4, of 369 Lee street suffered minor bruises of the left arm when he ran in front of a car driven by Ronald C. Long, 18, of 380 Chestnut street. He was hit in front of 119 East Center street at 3 p. m. Sunday, police reported. Ruth Ann Fh nas, sister of the child, told police she could not reach him in time to stop him from running into the street. The child was taken to his parents' home following the accident.

Slippery streets were blamed for collision between cars driven by James Albert Edwards, 30, of 474 Commercial street and Joe Sansone, 47, of Erie, Pennsylvania at West Center and Leader at 9:43 a. m. yesterday.

Driver Arrested

Noah Wilson Bradford, 55, of 518 Decatur street arrested at 7:09 p. m. Saturday on a charge of drunken driving pleaded guilty in municipal court today and was fined $100 and costs. His driving rights were suspended for three years.

He was arrested by city police after colliding with a parked car and cars driven by two other motorists.

Police charge Bradford, who was driving north on North Prospect street hit a parked car owned by J. B. Rizor of 987 North State street at the Erie tracks. He then crossed the tracks and continued north until just south of George street where he hit a car driven by Wilbert Grant McPeck, 65, of 664 South Prospect street. He then drove north on Prospect street where he hit a car driven by Kathryn Jamerson, 30, of 238 South Grand avenue.

Cars Collide

Cars driven by John J. Dugan, 44, of 144 South Main and Ray Penney, 20, of Twin Oak Trailer camp collided at North Main and George street at 7:40 a. m. today, police reported.

Cars driven by John A. Rife, 40, of 429½ Windsor street and John L. Cheney, 23, of 852 Merkle avenue collided on West Church at 10 a. m. Sunday. Slight damage resulted, a police report indicated.

Cars driven by Carl August Hull, 40, near Marion, and Willis E. Stewart, 55, of 1189 East Church collided at Mark and Grand at 9 a. m. Sunday.

Cars driven by Albert Firestone, 52, of 1090 East Church street and Jeanette M. Baughman, 25, of 521 Park boulevard, collided on Oak street at 2:25 p. m. Saturday. There was slight damage to both cars according to police reports.

Everett Harry James Jr., 18, of 369 Milburn avenue was arrested at 4:33 p. m. Sunday on Milburn avenue on a charge of reckless driving. He was lodged in city prison to await a hearing in municipal court today where he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $10 and costs.

ATOM SCIENTISTS HIT BY NEAR-BLINDNESS

NEWTON, Mass., Dec. 20—(AP)—Deadly radiation from atom-smashing cyclotrons has nearly blinded several American scientists, according to Dr. Shields Warren, head of the atomic energy commission's medical department.

He said yesterday that "about five" scientists, whom he did not name, have apparently developed cataracts of the eye as a result of the effects of radiation on the lens.

However, he stressed, "there is no evidence at the present time that they were working on the immediate problems of atomic energy."

For safety's sake, Dr. Warren declared, the commission is checking to determine if any of the scientists had been engaged in work other than university or similar projects which might involve proximity to atomic piles.

He emphasized there is considerably more danger of radiation leakage in research involving cyclotrons than in the atomic projects of the government and its contractors where, he added, "the hazards, as far as we can tell from present experience, are extremely slight."

A recent survey shows that 80.7 per cent of American adults have played cards at one time or another.

WARNS MASTER OF FIRE. Donald Christensen (right), 15, holds his dog, Susie, as he watches his home go up in flames in Detroit. Donald, sleeping alone in the house, was wakened by the dog after she had dug a hole beneath the front wall of the basementless home entered through a burned section and jumped up on his bed. Donald's mother had locked Susie out of the house when she left earlier.

FRENCH RETURN TINY VILLAGE TO RUSSIA

BERLIN, Dec. 20—(AP)—A lonely rural policeman kept watch today over the tiny village of Stolpe, which France is returning to Russia.

The west Berlin police department said the policeman would remain in the village until he was notified of the imminent arrival of a Soviet occupation force.

But, the department added, the latest information indicated the return of Stolpe might not be formally completed until Jan. 3.

The frightened village then will move behind the iron curtain.

Stolpe, adjacent to the French sector of Berlin, has a population of less than 1,000, most of them farmers. It was given to the French by the Russians on October, 1945, so the French could build an airfield there.

The field never was built. The Tegel airfield, inside the French sector, was completed last month for use by Allied airlift planes.

The French, therefore, announced Stolpe was being returned to the Russians. A French communique said since an airport had not been built the village's transfer to the French "became devoid of purpose."

The French, therefore, announced Stolpe was being returned to the Russians.

The French tricolor was hauled down yesterday. Reports from the village gave a microscopic preview of what might happen if the western allies ever abandon Berlin itself.

The villagers, who turned out an impressive anti-Communist vote in the Berlin elections two weeks ago, waited fearfully behind bolted doors for the Russians to return. They expected reprisals.

German officials of the village fled to Berlin. A farmer, commenting on their flight, said "our officials are running, but we must stay with our land. It is our bread."

Barkley Will Spend Christmas in Berlin

PADUCAH, Ky., Dec. 20—(AP)—Vice President-elect Alben W. Barkley is going to spend Christmas with American airmen flying the airlift to Berlin, he announced at his home here last night.

The senior Kentucky senator said he had planned to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Interparliamentary union, of which he is a member, in Paris, Dec. 28 and 29.

He added that Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington asked him to leave early enough to spend Christmas with the American fliers on the airlift.

Sen. Barkley said he would leave here tomorrow morning for Washington and that he and Mr. Symington would depart from Washington by air Wednesday.

The senator said he and Mr. Symington probably would go first to Wiesbaden, Germany, a southern terminus of the airlift, where they will spend Christmas eve. They plan to go on to Berlin Christmas day, he added.

RITA HAYWORTH, FLYNN "LEAST COOPERATIVE"

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 20—(AP)—Rita Hayworth and Errol Flynn were in the headlines again today—with pats on their backs that closely resembled spankings.

The Hollywood Women's Press club yesterday named them "the least cooperative" actress and actor for the year.

The club's "golden apples" as the most cooperative actress and actor went to Dorothy Lamour and Glenn Ford.

TRUCK CRASH KILLS 41

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 20—(AP)—Forty-one persons were killed yesterday when a truck carrying 47 picnickers rolled down a hill into the side of a train. A watchman who witnessed the crash, on the outskirts of Buenos Aires, said the truck's brakes apparently failed on the steep hill.

STEEL PRICES CUT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 20—(AP)—Two U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiaries today cut prices in several stainless steel products. The reductions average five per cent. Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. and the American Steel & Wire Co., in a joint announcement said the reductions were made "in order to maintain the competitive position" of the two companies and to expand use of stainless steel.

HEAVY FIGHTING NEAR TIENTSIN REPORTED

NANKING, Dec. 20—(AP)—Heavy fighting was reported today on the flatlands around Tientsin, teeming metropolis of north China.

Premier Sun Fo announced the formation of a new cabinet pledged to fight on until an honorable peace could be obtained. Although he called it a "no surrender" cabinet, he did not rule out the possibility of a compromise with the Communists.

Red forces severed rail and telegraph communications between Tientsin and its port city of Tangku 27 miles down the Hai river pro-government newspapers said.

The stepped up north China fighting left both Tientsin and ancient Peiping 90 miles northwest of Tientsin, isolated.

The Tientsin airport, 10 miles from town, was under Communist artillery fire. Ships, the newspapers said, were not permitted to leave Tangku, although the town itself still was in National hands.

At least two divisions of National troops were said to be trying to retake Peiping's south airport, which the Communists had wrested from government forces.

Spencer Moosa, Associated Press correspondent in Peiping, said a battle for the southern suburbs was shaping. He added, however, that Peiping's future probably would be determined around the conference table rather than on the battlefields.

Coolies worked inside the old walled city to open Peiping's only airfield available to the Nationalists.

Canton newspapers, far to the south, reported Red guerrillas in a surprise raid had struck Kangchouwan. Some street fighting was reported in the southern city.

Nanking's approaches were quiet. Sporadic fighting on the Pangpu front was reported.

Took Eyes Off Road, Caused Blackout

ASHLAND, Ky., Dec. 20—(AP)—Safety note: Don't peek into your glove compartment while driving. You might cause a blackout—like John Kidwell of Huntington, W. Va., did here Saturday night.

When Kidwell took that look, police said, he lost control of his automobile; the car struck a utility pole; and here's what happened:

Electricity in hundreds of Ashland-Catlettsburg homes was off from 11 p. m. to 5:45 a. m. yesterday; many Saturday night parties were blacked out; gas furnaces with electric controls went out and left residents shivering; main traffic on Ashland's Winchester avenue was stalled for 45 minutes; trains were stopped because sputtering high tension wires were across the tracks; Kidwell and two companions were treated at a hospital for minor injuries; employes of the Kentucky and West Virginia Power Co. were assembled at a hotel for their annual Christmas party. A crew of 25 had to leave to help restore service.

Winter To Arrive At 5:34 P. M. Tuesday

King Winter, arrogant ruler of all in the northern hemisphere to the north of the 23rd parallel, will arrive at 5:34 p. m. and it is sure to be observed in here with snow significant of the season which already has arrived in many areas.

According to the U. S. Naval Observatory, at the exact time the sun begins its southward journey and turns back again.

Tomorrow will be the shortest day of the year north of the equator after which the days gradually begin to be longer. South of the equator tomorrow will be the longest day.

LIMA POLICE SEEK 3 CONFIDENCE MEN

LIMA, O., Dec. 20—(INS)—Three confidence men who swindled $38,000 from one of their victims in a bill-lending racket were being sought today by Lima police.

Lima Police Chief Kermit L. Westbay said he has issued three warrants, naming M. S. Lane and Carol Dangovick. The third is a John Doe warrant.

The chief said the buildup began in Chicago with the finding of a wallet. The victim was told he stood to receive $75,000 if he could secure the $38,000 to show that he had the proper credit when he made the "killing" investment.

He brought the requested sum to Lima, the chief said, and transferred it to one of the two men. The man was supposed to take it to a stock brokerage but returned and told the "sucker" that he had invested it and lost it.

After several attempts to get his money back, the misled fortune hunter notified South Bend, Ind., police, who in turn notified the Ohio authorities.

100 Escape as Fire Guts Newark Hotel

NEWARK, O., Dec. 20—(AP)—Some 100 guests escaped without injury yesterday when fire destroyed the city's oldest hotel, the Virginia.

Ed Boles, a guest, smelled smoke and told Manager Dallas Farrell at 2:30 a. m. The fire was discovered in a vacant first floor room of the three-story frame hotel, which was built in the 1880's.

Boles, Farrell and a few other guests rescued occupants.

The local Red Cross chapter temporarily cared for most guests, many of whom lost all clothing except their night garments.

The loss was estimated at $36,000 by owner Wilbur Cochran.

2 OF 13 BUS CRASH DEAD UNIDENTIFIED

TOOELE, Utah, Dec. 20 (AP)—Authorities struggled early today to identify two of 13 persons killed in a western Utah highway collision.

The crash of two Bucyrus-Erie Railways buses occurred Saturday on fog-shrouded U. S. highway 40 about 63 miles west of Salt Lake City. Forty-one persons were injured.

Thirty-four military personnel en route home for Christmas were aboard an eastbound bus which collided with a westbound bus. Both vehicles were swept by flames and survivors escaped through smashed windows.

Names of four men killed in the smashup were withheld pending notification of next of kin. Officers said the two unidentified dead were burned so badly they could not positively establish the sex.

Most of the injured had been released from Salt Lake City hospitals. Seven servicemen in Veterans hospital in Salt Lake City were listed in critical condition.

Eleven others still hospitalized were reported in fairly good condition.

A Toledo, Ohio, tapering and painting contractor going to California to live was one of the 13 victims.

He was Albert Marschika, 53, who was burned to death in the wreckage.

His wife, the former Nancy Johnson of Lancaster, O., was injured seriously and taken to Salt Lake City hospital.

In Toledo, relatives Thomas Miller said the couple had sold their home and left there Thursday morning to make a new home in California.

Railroad Camp Cook Given 15-Day Sentence

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Dec. 18—Now serving 15 days in the Wyandot county jail here is Edward P. Malone, Pennsylvania railroad camp car cook, who pleaded guilty to a charge of fraud in Mayor Edwin S. Naus' court.

Malone was apprehended in Fort Wayne and returned to Upper Sandusky for trial after he had "skipped" from his job taking with him the funds contributed by the railway employes for food purchases. He was sentenced to 15 days in jail and ordered to pay the costs of the case. A $100 fine was suspended after Malone made arrangements to reimburse the railroad men.

Four Traffic Arrests Reported by Patrol

Four traffic arrests were reported by the highway patrol today for the weekend.

Mrs. Essiye Bartels of Hamilton was arrested at 3 p. m. yesterday for speeding on route 42. She was fined $10 and costs by Cardington mayor's court.

For driving with insufficient lights on route 61 at 6:50 p. m. Saturday, Robert Sebastian of Galion was fined $5 and costs by Galion mayor's court.

Louis Brown of Wadsworth was fined $10 and costs by mayor's court of Mt. Gilead for failure to obey a stop sign on route 42 at 3 p. m. yesterday.

At 10 p. m. last night Leonard Hayes of Milford Center was arrested on route 4 for speeding. He was fined $15 and costs in municipal court this morning.

POLIO VICTIM WORSE

BUCYRUS—Condition of Barbara Ann Ehmann, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Ehmann, residing east of here on the Galion road, is serious, relatives reported today. The young lady was stricken with infantile paralysis Oct. 10, nine days after her sister, Nancy Jo, 8, contracted the disease. Both sisters are confined to Children's hospital in Columbus.

COLLEGES FEEL LULL IN ENROLLMENTS

CINCINNATI, Dec. 20—(AP)—College enrollments still are on the increase but a lull has started, a study showed today.

Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, reported in his annual statistical survey for "School and Society" on educational weeks that full-time enrollments at 726 colleges and universities on Nov. 1 were only nine-tenths of one per cent greater than a year ago. There was a 4.5 per cent increase in part-time enrollments.

Dr. Walters said there were 1,380,783 students enrolled on a full-time basis in the 726 institutions and 351,196 enrolled for part-time work.

World war veterans, who make up 40 per cent of the enrollment, are the students maintaining the current enrollment levels, Dr. Walters reported.

The University of California and New York university lead the nation in total number of students. California is tops in the number of full-time students with 43,417 while NYU leads in full-time and part-time students with 47,647.

The University of Minnesota is next to California in number of full-time students with 26,843 followed by Illinois with 24,616, New York U. with 23,100, Wisconsin with 22,336 and Ohio State with 22,227.

In 1948, U. S. proven crude oil reserves were at a record high level of more than 21 million barrels.

BOARD STUDIES INTELLIGENCE

Hoover Commission Takes Up Reports to U.S. from Abroad.

WASHINGTON Dec 20 (AP) — [illegible] be explored today [illegible] 12-man group [illegible] President Herbert [illegible] takes up the report [illegible] national security, "task force."

The security task force's report [illegible] said last week found that there are disturbing inadequacies in American intelligence which should be promptly remedied.

In fact it said in effect that in 1948 a "mistaken" intelligence report by one agency, might have led to war if followed. But it said fortunately the central intelligence agency correctly evaluated the information in good time.

Each service department of government — the State Army Navy and Air Force has its own intelligence set up to gather information from abroad which might affect the nations interests.

Over all is the central intelligence agency created by the national security act of 1947 which is charged with coordinating the intelligence activities of the government in the interest of national security.

The 1948 incident was not disclosed but it was reported to have involved the air force and the Russians in Germany.

The security report not yet approved by the commission is critical of both CIA and intelligence efforts at the lower levels. It recommends that vigorous efforts be made to improve the internal structure of the central intelligence agency and the quality of its product especially in the fields of scientific and medical intelligence, that there be established within the agency at the top echelon an evaluation board or section composed of competent and experienced personnel who would have no administrative responsibilities and whose duties would be confined solely to intelligence evaluation, and that positive efforts be made to foster relations of mutual confidence between the central intelligence agency and the several departments and agencies that it serves."

The Hoover commission is charged by congress with recommending ways to streamline the executive branch of government and make it more efficient.

Roll call was answered by 17 members with "Thoughts of Christmas" at a meeting of the Circle of Service of King's Daughters recently with Mrs A F Lantzer on Pearl street. Mrs Frank Brabson presided for the meeting and the program included devotions conducted by Mrs A H Exton and the Christmas story by Mrs E E Mason. APPOINTED DEAN

GLENVILLE, W Va, Dec 20—(AP)—Dr Edwin P Adkins of the Ohio State university history faculty has been appointed dean of Glenville State college, it was announced here during the weekend by Glenville President Harry B Heflin.

CLUBS RAISE FUND OF $564

Receipts from Army Kettles Used To Provide Christmas for Needy.

Service clubs manning the Salvation Army kettles last Saturday topped their 1947 outing by netting $564.51 in the five hours in the downtown business district. Last year the contributions amounted to $547.

Manning the kettles on the Saturday before Christmas is an annual stint on the calendar of the Kiwanis, Y Men's, Jay-Cees, Lions and Exchange clubs. Proceeds of the day, together with contributions received in the kettles during the last few weeks will be used to provide dinners for families and toys for children who otherwise would have no Christmas.

The following reports were made by the various clubs: Lions $74.20, Y Men's $92.57, Jay-Cees $163, Exchange $81.85 and Kiwanis $152.89.

100 Families on List

Every cent will be needed to provide Christmas for the more than 100 families and the seventy hundred children to be taken care of this Christmas, Adjutant Mary Nisiewicz said today.

Many of those receiving help this year are asking for it because of illness in the family which brings with it an accumulation of bills, heads of families are out of work because of lay-offs, and there are mothers whose allotments just don't provide food at today's prices and who [illegible] for enough to put something [illegible] the children's stockings [illegible] and the organizations [illegible] ing Adjutant Nisiewicz [illegible] offers to take a family, and this [illegible] keeping to see the road.

A test it won't be a happy Christmas for some. In one family where there are six children, one just recovering from polio, the father only recently went back to work after being [illegible]. Another [illegible] mother of five children cannot make her dollars stretch to supply more than meager necessities and it will be a bare Christmas for three youngsters as [illegible] one recently was destroyed by [illegible] and the family has to start from scratch. Old age pensioners also are on the Christmas list as their limited funds won't do more than provide bare necessities.

Christmas Tree

Shoppers also are asked to remember the Caravan Christmas tree at Uniers and when doing your last minute shopping this week put a package under the tree with clothing for some boy or girl. The purchase may be made at any store. Donors are asked to place on the outside of the package what it contains and whether it is a gift for a boy or girl. A total of 525 such packages are needed to meet the requests, Adjutant Nisiewicz says. The caravan gift packages will be picked up Thursday afternoon.

Yesterday 667 sunshine baskets were delivered to the Marion County home, Waddell Ladies Home, Riffee rest home, Marion county children's home, city and county jails, City hospital, the Union county home and the Wo-[illegible]

TWINSBURG GOES BACK TO SCHOOL

TWINSBURG, O., Dec. 20 — Twinsburg's turbulent school situation revolved itself into classes today with the return of about one-third of the 400 pupils.

The 400 students had an unofficial vacation Monday when eight of the eighteen Glen Powell and the two teachers resigned, declaring they could not perform their duties satisfactorily because of "outside interference."

The eight resignations were ordered by a three-day strike of high school students and ended in assault and battery charges against Powell by a parent who accused the principal of clamming him against a blackboard.

The case was held to Summit county common pleas court on the charge.

The school administration group, including the Real Estate Evangelical and Reformed church men" association, met last night and supported the resumption of classes.

A resolution adopted by the group declared, "we ask the cooperation of the superintendent (Powell) and the board to return the pupils, with the understanding that this is essential." The real estate group previously demanded Powell's resignation and had circulated petitions demanding removal of all five school board members.

The board will meet tonight in regular session and decide the cases of three boys who were dismissed by Powell for disrespect. Their dismissal has been a bitterly contested point.

School board president Frederick L. Wilson said the cases would not be considered in executive session, today, and that their cases would be decided by the board tonight.

FOREST LAWN GROUP MEETS

Forest Lawn Presbyterian Missionary society met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. M. Luckey on Pennsylvania avenue, with Mrs. D. T. Hamilton in charge of business. Devotions were by Mrs. W. P. Converse, and readings were by Mrs. Blanche Hartpence, Mrs. Kenneth Riley and Mrs. Len Thompson.

LOYAL DAUGHTERS MEET

A potluck dinner Thursday noon and Christmas party for the Loyal Daughters class of First Evangelical and Reformed church were held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Welsh of 392 South Vine street. For a program, carols were sung, and each member contributed a story or reading of her own choosing. Guests were Mrs. Nora Boyd, of Prospect, and Mrs. William Schrote of the Cardington road. A gift exchange was held. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Clarence Flach of 347 South Vine street.

1949 Olds Goes on Display Here

NEW FOUR-DOOR OLDS "98" FOR 1949

The new 1949 model Oldsmobiles went on display today at White Oldsmobile Inc. showrooms at 436 West Center street, J. M. Rankin, general manager announced.

On display are a new model Olds 98 two tone gray four-door sedan and the completely new Olds model 88 two-door six-passenger coupe in solid grey. Both these cars are equipped with the new Olds "Rocket" eight-cylinder motor, developed by General Motors engineering genius and Vice President Charles F. Kettering.

Two of the new Oldsmobile 76 series four door sedans are expected to arrive for display later in the week Mr. Rankin said. One will be of the present plain back while the other will be the new "notched back" style with the extended luggage compartments. Engineering refinements have been kept pace with by Olds body designers, giving the new models brand new standards of performance but unprecedented luxury of appointments Mr. Rankin said.

All Are Futuramic

For 1949, all series of Oldsmobile will be "Futuramic" according to the announcement. The new "Futuramic" Series "76" will introduce Fisher's newest body, which along with newly-styled frontal and fender treatment, gives it Oldsmobile's characteristic "Futuramic" look. The "Futuramic" Series "98" will be newly styled outside, and newly appointed inside, Mr. Skinner said. Both Series will offer new engines—the "76" powered by an improved six-cylinder motor, and the "98" featuring an entirely new high-compression power plant—the "Rocket" engine.

The Futuramic "76" Series will consist of six body types. In addition to the four-door sedan, club sedan, coupe and convertible models, there will be an entirely new streamlined four-door town sedan, and a new deluxe six-passenger station wagon with steel top. The "Futuramic" series "98" model will include three body types—four-door sedan, club sedan and convertible coupe. The "Futuramic" Series "76" will occupy a substantially lower price range than the series "98."

"Rocket" Power Plant

The new "Rocket" power plant is the same high-compression, eight cylinder, valve-in-head engine which General Motors engineers and research experts have had under process of development for several years. It is the product of an entirely new engine plant in Lansing, Mich., which Oldsmobile calls "the newest, most modern motor plant in the world." According to Mr. Skinner, the compression ratio of the new engine is 7.25 to 1. With only minor mechanical modifications, this ratio can be stepped up in future models to 12 to 1, as soon as higher octane fuels are available.

"Oldsmobile's 1949 'Rocket' engine," Mr. Skinner revealed, "is the most powerful ever installed in an Oldsmobile. Its 135 horsepower is an increase of 20 horsepower over Oldsmobile's eight-cylinder 1948 engine."

The "Rocket" is a 90 degree "banked cylinder" engine with overhead valves. Hydraulic valve lifters have been introduced for quiet operation. Pistons are a new type with cutaway skirts and slotted auto-thermic construction. The new dual downdraft carburetor has a low resistance air intake which allows the engine to breathe freely.

Richwood Lions Hold Ladies Night Program

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD—In keeping with an annual custom, a Christmas party and ladies night was observed by the Richwood Lions club Thursday in the high school auditorium.

Following dinner served by the WSCS of the Central Methodist church to about 200 members and guests, K. D. Kyle presided for the meeting. Special organ music during the dinner hour was played by Mrs. Jack Weller, who was accompanist for group singing of carols. Ralph White, program chairman, introduced the guest entertainer, Jack Courtney, magician of Columbus.

The Jackson Grange Ladies quartet sang a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Aaron Durnell. Decorations suggestive of the Yuletide season were used, including a lighted Christmas tree.

CO-WORKERS CLASS MEETS

Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Hochstetler entertained the Co-workers class of First Evangelical United Brethren church in their home on South Prospect street Thursday night. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith and Mrs. Roger Campbell. Devotions were by Hugh Kirkwood. During the social hour, awards went to Mrs. Kirkwood, Mrs. Russell Nickol, Mr. and Mrs. Darl Caldwell, and Ben Dilsaver. A gift exchange was held, and Mrs. S. A. Hill, teacher of the class, was presented a gift.

Mrs. Snider Hostess To Epworth Circle

Mrs. Charles Snider was hostess for the Christmas meeting of Circle 8 of the WSCS of Epworth Methodist church Thursday afternoon at her home on Thompson street. Mrs. C. J. Bever presided for the meeting which was opened with group singing of the theme song, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," and prayer. Mrs. L. S. Irey, special offering secretary, reported a thank offering of $13 was received.

Miss Grace Cunningham conducted devotions by reading the Christmas story from the second chapter of Matthew, and she gave a brief story of the wiseman. Mrs. E. E. Gleaser read the story of "Mary, the Mother of Jesus," the sermon of the month. "Something the Angels Sang," was given by Mrs. J. J. Stafford, and thoughts on the Spirit of Christmas, taken from "Christmas Eve At Home," were given by Mrs. Bever. Group singing of Christmas carols, prayer by Mrs. Hugo Malo, and the class benediction closed the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Dorthy Snider. The January meeting will be with Mrs. Carl Danner on Girard avenue.

Views of Santa Vary in Poll of V. Y. Children

By JOE WING
Associated Press Writer

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., Dec. 20—He's really and truly, honest Santa Claus a like [illegible] 88 year old and seven[illegible] lives with Mrs Claus [illegible] Lord Pine, and visits 152 [illegible] each Christmas [illegible] the help of his magic [illegible]

[illegible] very good cross-[illegible] [illegible] and grade [illegible] Main Street school [illegible] grade children don't [illegible] Santa is fake, really [illegible] who does

[illegible] there was nothing cut and [illegible] when the subject of Ano Santa is, the [illegible] dren dictated these comments among others

"A jolly old man—he real all right."

"Mother and Daddy give the [illegible] but there's a real Santa [illegible]

"A man—American."

"A man, "a person very ordi[illegible]"

"My father, but I think there's a real one too. Some say there isn't."

"I think he's Bing Crosby."

Not all the children, of course, thought him 88 years old. One girl figured him to be 50,000 years old and a foot high. Others decided he was as young as 15 and as tall as 60 feet. But the consensus showed him up as elderly and out-size. He's been around a long time, but he has to handle a lot of work.

VETERINARIAN DIES

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20—(AP)—Dr. David C. Hyde, 66, assistant state veterinarian and former acting state veterinarian, died Saturday, apparently of a heart ailment.

An Actor's Lament

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty

JOSE FERRER, the most envied actor on Broadway today, has a simple professional ambition.

"My goal in the theater," he said, "is to get out of the theater."

This attitude would be easily understandable in one who had flopped. It sounded odd coming from a man who only last month got the finest accolade from critics of any actor since John Barrymore but the jackpot in "Hamlet."

Hal Boyle

But Ferrer, star of "The Silver Whistle," doesn't find too much to whistle over in his new fame. He is in a somewhat the position of a man who suddenly achieved a lifelong goal to be a lighthouse keeper—and then found the view from the top boring.

Actor friends tell Ferrer he is lucky because he is in a hit play that may last for years. And this is the prospect that rather appalls him.

"It means," he lamented over a well-poached egg, "that I'll have to say the same lines, over and over, eight times a week for perhaps two or three years. That's no way to live."

* * *

FERRER—pronounced 'for air'—said he felt the twin evils of the American theater are its insecurity of employment and over-emphasis on new hit plays.

"I don't particularly like the life I lead," he said. "For the simple reason I don't usually know whether I'm going to eat next year. "When I was a kid there were ninety theaters on broadway. Now there are about

"Today an actor no longer can afford to plan a career in the theater alone. To stay active he also has to go into the movies, radio or television."

Ferrer thinks the ideal compromise has been made by Laurence Olivier, the English actor, who appears in one movie and five or six plays a year. And he believes many of the troubles of the American theater would be solved if more encouragement were given to playwrights.

"The American public knows nearly anything about its own writers," he said. "They write fine plays here, but after they are put on once the plays are done with—thrown away.

"And by the time a playwright has learned his trade he has starved to death."

Ferrer, a pleasant, mon-featured man of 36 laughed cheerfully and said cheerfully:

"I know this may sound a little ungrateful, but it's really a kind of luxury to me. Nobody listens to an actor's gripes when he's out of work."

HE HAS A common-sense, down-to-earth idea of the stage.

"The chief requirement of an actor is exhibitionism — of one kind or another. It's childish but in a healthy way.

"The average actor is less likely to be neurotic than any other kind of artist. It's easier for him to express himself, and, of course, he gets to hear the applause."

At present Ferrer appears in no imminent danger of starvation. He can stand on 47th and Broadway and see his name in lights over two productions—his dramatic play and the movie "Joan of Arc."

Asked what careers appealed to him beside acting, he said:

"Teaching English literature or painting."

He's just a map in love with insecurity.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

BE right with you," Katharine said, but I prudently closed the door on her answer, for I could feel Dicky's frown on the back of my head.

"You didn't need to lay it on with a trowel," he told me, glowering, as I turned to face him. "The boys will think I'm a temperamental invalid."

To my eternal credit, I repressed a smile at that understatement, for dealing with Dicky when he is ill, is a herculean task.

"They didn't even look up from their game," I told him, placidly fibbing for their questioning eyes had met mine, and I had given them a reassuring nod.

"You're a cock-eyed liar," he told me, but with a grin, for his annoyance had vanished.

"What does he need, Madge, a cat-o'-nine-tails, or will a razor strop be sufficient?" Katharine asked as she came through the door, and closed it after her.

"Neither," I told her. "He's just annoyed because I 'gilded the lily' in the excuse I gave for calling you."

"Doesn't he like being dubbed a 'temperamental brat'?" Katharine crooed as she took a seat beside him. "Well! Nobody, not even your loving spouse, shall speak out of turn about you again, so they shan't. But I'll speak plenty —" her voice turned grim. "What's he been doing, Madge?"

"Not a single thing!" I returned promptly. "That's why he rebelled at what I said in summoning you. But I had to have a plausible excuse to get you in here, so the boys wouldn't begin to ask mental question."

"I see," she said. "Well, dish me the lentils."

I started toward the door, and Dicky almost yelled at me.

"Where do you think you're going?" he said vociferously.

"Afraid to be left with me?" Katharine gibed.

"You can bet your last nickel I am," he told her dourly. "Of all the sadists, you hold the championship, Madge, you stick around."

"I'm afraid the boys will begin to worry if we both stay in here," I said. "And you surely don't need me for your talk with Katharine. I don't know anything about that man except what you've told me."

"What is all this?" Katharine asked.

"I'll tell you presently," he said. "My 'little woman' is right—as per usual—in everything she has said. So run along, Sweet, and preserve the sweetness and light in the other room while I try to get what I want to say through this moron's head."

"Someday, my cheeping Dicky-bird," Katharine said darkly "I'm going to forget that I'm a lady—"

"'Drunk or sober, damn you,'" Dicky quoted with a grin, and Katharine started rolling up her sleeves.

"Get out quickly, Madge," she said. "This will be no sight for loving eyes."

But as I closed the door after smoothing the laugh from my lips, I heard Dicky say in business-like tones: "Now, here's the dope."

and knew that their theatrical japes had been laid aside.

JOLSON GIVES TO HOSPITAL

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 20—(AP)—Al Jolson sang some beautiful Christmas melodies for the Cedars of Labanon hospital. The "Mammy" singer announced yesterday that he is giving his $75,000 Mulholland Drive mountaintop estate to the hospital as a yuletide gift. The institution can do whatever it wants with the 14-room mansion and property, Jolson said.

NO SLACKENING IN STEEL DEMAND SEEN

CLEVELAND, Dec 20—(AP)—No slackening demand for steel has resulted despite some production cutbacks and labor curtailments, the magazine steel said today.

The magazine said there is market spottiness, particularly in household appliances, but,

Increased caution by industrial purchasers has not affected demand except in the gray market where increased resistance to high prices is reported."

Most producing mills will began 1948 with substantial order backlogs, Steel said.

"Consuming requirements will continue well in excess of supplies for some months to come. Particular stringency is indicated in sheets, strip, pipe, and plates through the first half of 1949 at least, with the situation in bars, shapes and certain wire items only slightly less acute."

Consumers are still uncertain as to how much tonnage they can expect to receive during the first quarter, Steel said.

"In some cases tonnage has been alloted only through January, and in some others through February In sheets, for example, the great proportion of hot and cold-rolled tonnage has not been allotted beyond February, except for priority work. In the east a particularly severe pinch in Carbon bars appears in prospect."

Steelmaking operations continue to hold close to the recently established all-time high, Steel said.

"Output in the first 11 months of the year totaled 80,737,800 net tons. With production through December holding close to the November high, rate indications are output for 1948 will total around 88,500,000 tons. Output in 1947 was less than 85,000,000."

Lulu Beery Class Meets at Garster Home

A potluck supper preceded a meeting of the Lulu Beery class of Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren church Thursday night at the home of Mrs Bertha Gaster on North Main street.

Group singing of Christmas carols opened the meeting, devotions were conducted by Mrs. Lowell Cook, and prayer was by Mrs. Robert Chappel. Plans were made to fill a Christmas basket for a needy family and to send fruit baskets to the shut-in members of the class. Secret sisters were revealed in a Christmas gift exchange. Prayer by Mrs. Sam Smith concluded the meeting.

Guests were Mrs. Ethel Myers, Mrs. Eva Carpenter, Mrs. Marie Bentley, Mrs. Lowell Cook and Mrs. Kathryn Reed. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. A. Thomas on East Farming street.

Basket for Family Packed by Circle

Members of the Circle of Light, King's Daughters, packed a basket for a needy family at a meeting last Monday night in the home of Mrs. Mildred Brooks on Uhler avenue. A gift exchange was held. The Christmas story was given by Mrs. Mildred Foster, and a quartet composed of Mrs. Maude Robinson, Mrs. Marguerite Eaton, Mrs. Jessie Ellery and Mrs. Betty Whysall sang. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Florence Tennis were assistant hostesses. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Ada Morgan. A work meeting was announced for the Morgan home for Jan. 25, and a commercial products demonstration at the home of Mrs. Tennis Jan. 13. Next regular meeting will be Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. Faye Miller on Mary street.

BRITAIN ANNOUNCES RECOVERY PROGRAM

LONDON, Dec 20—(AP)—Britain announced today a four-year plan to muster all her men, money and materials to get the nation out of the red by 1952.

The aim is to make Britain self-supporting by the time the American financed European recovery program comes to an end.

The plan, set forth in a white paper, calls for continued austerity and self denial, and a massive production effort.

Officials called it "a sign post for the future."

The plan assumes Britain will continue to receive American help under ERP until mid-1952

It estimates Britain's dollar needs under ERP next year at $940,000,000 compared with $1,e 263,000,000 in 1948-49

Without American help, the planners said, "recovery would be gravely hampered and there would be a real risk of the whole economy being caught in a descending spiral."

RUSSIANS OPERATE URANIUM MINES

By The United Press

HAMBURG, Germany—A 22-year-old German girl who worked for a year in Russian-operated uranium mines reports that large numbers of the miners are fleeing to western Germany.

Christina Peter, who volunteered for low-grade uranium mining in Saxony, said she estimated more than 100,000 Germans are at work in the mines

Food, liquor and cigarets are fairly plentiful but Communists are continually trying to convince workers to join the party, she said

Christina said she could not estimate the number of workers who actually reach the west, but that the number escaping every day was large.

PALESTINE WAR "OVER"

NEW YORK, Dec. 20—(AP)—The Palestine war "is now over" and a final solution of problems arising out of the creation of the new state of Israel is well on its way, Dr. Ralph Bunche says. The acting United Nations mediator of Palestine added, on his return yesterday to this country, that the new Jewish state is "firmly established."

DIVORCES WALKER. Far from the romantic young husband he plays on the screen, Robert Walker was cruel, flighty irascible, his wife, Barbara Ford (above, in Los Angeles court), daughter of producer John Ford told a judge in obtaining a divorce. "We had hardly moved into an apartment when he became angry with me and struck me," she testified They parted after a month

SEARCH FOR VESSEL

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 20(AP)—A widespread search was underway today for the Honduran vessel San Luis and members of her crew. At least three vessels were in the vicinity of Cape San Antonio, Cuba, combing the waters for some trace of the 807 ton craft and the undetermined number of men who were aboard her The Coast Guard said the last message received from the ship reported the men were taking to the boats This was last night and no further word had been heard from her at an early hour today.

NO NEED OF DOCTOR

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20—(AP)—An intruder broke into a doctor's office at night, removed a cast from an arm, bandaged it and left a $20 bill in payment. Dr. Nelson A. Young reported this self-service incident to police yesterday, saying nothing had been taken from his office but some fresh bandages. Dr. Young added he was $5 ahead, since his fee is only $15 for such a service.

Reprieve in Offing For Ancient House

By The United Press

NEW ORLEANS—Miss Maria Montaverde claims the house she has lived in for 56 years is not safe, but the city of New Orleans won't let her tear it down.

The trouble is, Miss Montaverde's home is too old. It dates back about 170 years and guides in the French Quarter point it out to tourists

The house has had many owners since its construction. Among them was Capt Enrique Mentzinger of the Spanish army, who lived in the house until 1803, the year the United States bought Louisiana

Miss Montevede claimed the house was sinking and went to the Vieux Carre Commission, which controls the razing, repair and building of houses in the French Quarter.

The Vieux Carre Commission turned her down. Miss Montaverde's next move probably will be to take the case to court. Some city officials believe the city would expropriate the building and make the repairs, rather than see it torn down.

The number of officers in the U.S. reserve army was reduced from about 68,000 in 1920 to about 5,000 at the outbreak of World War II.

Dump Bills, 49-7, For Championship

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Writer

CLEVELAND, Dec 20—While the dove of peace hovered hopefully today over a meeting of the National Football league and the All-America conference in Philadelphia, this lakeside metropolis celebrated its fourth pro grid title in as many years

The three year-old conference sent five of its club owners, each with an olive branch in his hand, to the City of Brotherly Love for the confab with its older rival which up to now has refused to recognize the All-America's existence.

With practically all clubs losing money, the two big leagues were expected to come up with an armistice ending the three-year war for playing talent and attendant high salaries Each loop postponed its draft a day because of the peace conference.

The Cleveland fans, however, weren't too interested in the financial woes of the warring circuits They were too busy singing the praises of the home town Browns who romped over the Buffalo Bills, champions of the eastern sector of the All-America, by 49 to 7 in yesterday's title game.

Unbeaten Season

That verdict rounded out an unbeaten-untied season for the Browns, who handed double defeats to the other seven clubs and topped it off with a workmanlike job on the Buffalo team in the payoff struggle.

Just to make certain there was no question about who was boss, the proteges of Coach Paul E Brown ran up their biggest count of the season, while holding Buffalo to its lowest total.

Brown, elated over his first clean season since 1940 when he dropped the reins at Massillon high school and went on to Ohio State, Great Lakes and then here, termed his champions "the greatest team I've ever coached."

He also said he was willing to meet the Philadelphia Eagles "any time and any place," but suggested the best time for a match with the newly-crowned National league kings would be in an exhibition just before the 1949 season opens.

Asked if that suggestion contained a hint he would be boss of the Browns next year, instead of taking a collegiate job as has been rumored, he answered:

"I don't know. Next season is pretty far off, and right now I'm thinking about a vacation in Florida."

Of big Marion Motley, his 240-pound fullback who scored three touchdowns against the Bills, piling up 1233 yards in 14 tries, Brown said:

"That Motley, he really was a snoot full, wasn't he? He's the greatest fullback in history, and that includes Bronko Nagurski."

Crowd Is Smallest

Adverse weather cut the crowd to 22,981, smallest of the season here, and cut the winning players' individual share to $594 18, but Brown said his team was "fired to the limit."

"They were as anxious as a kid about to drive his dad's car for the first time," he said.

The Browns rushed off to a 28-0 edge, scoring once in each of the first two periods and twice in the third before the eastern champs registered on a 10 yard pass from Jim Still to end Alton Baldwin.

For the Browns Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones came up with the first touchdown on a four-yard plunge, and end George Young scored the second as he raced 18 yards with a recovered fumble. Quarterback Otto Graham passed eight yards to Jones for the third, and then Motley registered three in a row on rambles of 29, 31 and five yards.

Defensive center and Capt Lou Saban got the last one, jobbing 39 yards with an intercepted pass for his first counter in three years

In three seasons of championship play the Browns have won 41 games, lost three and tied one. The Cleveland Rams won the National league title here in 1945, then moved to Los Angeles.

BROWNS WIN. Chet Mutryn of the Buffalo Bills muffs a George Ratterman pass in the All-America play-off game at Cleveland, where 22,981 fans saw the home team Cleveland Browns win the conference championship for the third successive year by a lop-sided 49-7 score. Tommy James of the Browns makes the tackle.

SHIFT IN VET LOOP STANDINGS IS LIKELY

Tonight's Marion county Veterans' league games might well bring a reshuffling in the loop's standings The six games at the Marion Armory will complete the first round of play in the league

At 9 p m league-leading VFW will take on Waldo in a game that promises to be a fight The Waldo men are a hot and cold outfit but tonight they have a chance to move into a tie with VFW if they turn in a victory.

Tied with Waldo for second place is the only team to hand the outsiders a defeat, Bird-McGinnis The post 102 boys will take on a weak Navy Club quintet at 8 Because of a lack of reserves the Navy men are the loop's cellar-dwellers

Company C and GI Post tangle at 7 with an eye toward moving up the ladder. Both squads have won one and dropped three.

Deer Kill Cut By Fog, Rainy Weather

By The Associated Press

Had the snow which blanketed 13 northeastern Ohio counties today fallen a week ago, most of the deer in that area would be in freezers now, game wardens agreed as they toted up a record hunting season kill which may exceed 1,500 bucks and does.

The six-day season ended Saturday afternoon, but reports by the hunters will continue coming in all this week. A survey covering only eight of the 13 counties showed 1,200 deer shot—as many as went down during the 1947 season when only eight counties were open to the nimrods.

State conservation commission spokesmen said about 20,000 hunters were out with shotguns (and a few with bows and arrows) last week in pursuit of a deer population estimates at about 5,000. That the 5,000 figure is conservative, is indicated by the fact that automobiles killed 220 deer in the area this year before the hunters had a chance.

Two days of fog and two more of rain cut down the kill this year.

Snow Week Late

"We might not have had any deer left, if this snow had fallen last week," said Game Warden R Neil Mattern of Harrison county where 75 to 100 of the animals were taken

The kill in other counties, compared with 1947, included:

Trumbull 450 (about 350 in 1947); Columbiana 72 (66); Lake 100 (100); Tuscarawas 175-200 (no hunting in that county last year); Ashtabula 250 (350); Portage 40 (50); Geauga 30 (60).

All of the game wardens were receiving additional reports today, and these figures will be increased in the final count.

As in Ohio's three previous deer seasons, no accidental injuries were reported by game wardens.

And arrests for game law violations were at a minimum. Ashtabula, Lake, and Geauga had no arrests, and Portage county's six was the most of any. But, Game Warden Henry J. Shreader of Ravenna insisted, the nimrods who hunted in Portage county were "the finest bunch I've checked—and, for the first time in my experience there was no liquor or trouble."

Most of the arrests were for lack of permits, but other charges including using a rifle (only shotguns were allowed), hunting after hours (9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.) and trespassing.

Biggest Buck

Biggest bucks brought down were a 420-pound, 16-pointer which Paul R Cox of Kensington, O., shot near Dungannon in Columbiana county, and an 18-point buck over 300 pounds which Robert Winchell of Cold Springs tagged near Jefferson in Ashtabula county

Two Warren hunters got lost in an 8,000-acre swamp west of Bristol in Trumbull county and spent Saturday night outdoors while a posse of more than 200 hunted for them for six hours to 2 a. m. They showed up next morning walking down one of the few roads in the area.

The pair, who got separated from their respective parties and met up in the woods late Saturday afternoon, were Dr. Hyde H. Storey and William Palmer. They were none the worst for the venture, but mighty hungry.

GRA-Y LOOP OPENS BASKETBALL PLAY

The YMCA Grade School basketball league opened its play Saturday afternoon at the Y with surprisingly large crowds attending.

In the eastern half of the loop Forest Lawn laced George Washington, 44-7, with Madison and Hart leading the scoring attack of the winners with 22 and 12 points, respectively. Greenwood and St. Mary battled out one of the best contests of the afternoon with Greenwood emerging the victor, 22-10. Joe Snouffer of Greenwood with 12 points and Billy Messenger of the Irish with six took the scoring honors in this game. Johnny White's Pearl Street quintet lowered the boon on Mark with a 35 to 6 thumping. Little Judd Scott with nine markers was Pearl's high man.

Over in the west league only two games were played when Oak and Olney failed to field teams Silver, lacking in height, couldn't match the rebounding of the Glenwood boys and dropped the contest, 21-13. Tildon Waits and Bob Drake were the big guns for their respective teams. North Main, with a well rounded scoring attack, downed Oakland, 24-13. Every North Main regular tallied at least once.

MARTEL MAN BAGS 250-POUND BUCK

One of the largest bucks to be shot in Ohio this year was bagged with one shot by George Stevens of near Martel in a deer hunting trip with several other Martel men in eastern Ohio.

The width of the animal's antlers measured 23¼ inches and the 11-point buck weighed 250 pounds. Stevens had only been hunting three hours and 15 minutes when he felled the prize buck near Zoar in Tuscarawas county last Thursday He was alone at the time Stevens is a former Ashley resident and the son of Mr and Mrs. J E. Stevens of near Ashley

MARTEL-MIDDIE TILT TOP Y ATTRACTION

The game YMCA basketball fans have been waiting for is on the bill of Independent league play tonight at the Y, Martel vs. Midtown Chevrolet.

Both squads are undefeated and have ball players that could be playing in college basketball, many fans agree. Since Wilson and Sakel has switched to the Industrial league, tonight's schedule will vary slightly. Green's Sporting Goods will face Schlarret at 7 p. m., Sally Ann Inn will meet Home Super Market at 8 and the big game of the evening goes on at 9.

Midtown has a terrific passing attack and although the Martel boys lack the grace and smoothness of the Midtown squad, they make up for it in rebound work and fight.. Bob Winterstellar, Jones, the Moran boys, and Gene Shellhorn are the Midtown threats. Gene Freet tops the Martel men in scoring.

Stan Musial Hailed As Batting Champ

NEW YORK, Dec. 20—(AP)—Stan Musial, the priceless batting star of the St. Louis Cardinals, is being hailed today as the official batting champion of the National league for the third time in his illustrious career.

Musial posted a lofty .376 mark to win the batting derby in a breeze. He also paced the circuit in runs batted in, 131; runs scored, 135; hits, 230, total bases, 429; doubles, 46, and triples, 18, according to final official averages. Musial's .376 average is the highest since Arky Vaughan posted .385 for Pittsburgh in 1935.

Needed Another Homer

The Card star also hammered 39 homers, but Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner and New York's Johnny Mize beat Musial for homer honors by clouting 40 apiece

Not since Ducky Medwick, another Cardinal, led the league in batting in 1937 with a .374 mark has a player so dominated batting laurels as Musial

STAN MUSIAL

Musial became the fourth player in the league's history to capture the title three or more times. Honus Wagner, Pittsburgh's immortal, holds the record with eight Rogers Hornsby is next with seven, topping six for St. Louis and one for Boston Paul Waner is the other with three for Pittsburgh Musial previously won the derby in 1943 (.357) and 1946 (.365).

The Card star, who finished 43 points ahead of rookie Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia in the batting race, also tied a major league and two loop records

He banged out five hits in one game four times during the season to equal the major league mark set by Detroit's great Ty Cobb in 1922

Musial joined Hornsby, Ginger Beaumont and Jess Burkett for leading the league in hits the most times, four and tied Wagner and Vaughan for pacing the loop in three-baggers the oftenest, three.

Holmes, Dark Next

Tommy Holmes and Alvin Dark of the pennant winning Boston Braves followed Ashburn in the batting race. Holmes trailed Ashburn's .333 with a .325 mark. Dark came in fourth at .322, one point higher than Red Bird Star Enos Slaughter's .321.

Rounding out the top ten were Jeff Heath, Boston, .319; Dixie Walker, Pittsburgh, .316; Andy Pafko, Chicago, .312; Myron McCormick, Boston, .303 and Bob Scheffing, Chicago, .300.

Mike and Kiner also created records Mize became the first National league player to hit 40 or more homers three times in his career. He slammed 43 in 1940 and 51 last year.

Kiner established a major league mark for leading in homers or tying for the leadership in each of his first three seasons in the majors. Kiner led in 1946 and tied Mize last season.

Cleveland Gets All-Star Game

CLEVELAND, Dec 20—(AP)—The fourth annual Ohio scholastic all-star football game will be held in Cleveland next year, Ralph Ness, Lakewood High school coach, disclosed today.

Ness was appointed head coach of the North squad at the Ohio High School Coaches association meeting in Columbus two weeks ago. He represented the Cleveland district in the bidding at the state capital last Saturday

Ness said the date and place of the game still is undecided, but he is planning to contact President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians about use of the municipal stadium for some time in August

"If it wouldn't interfere with schedule the game in either of the the Indians' schedule, we'd like to last two Saturdays in August," he said

The biggest expense, according to the Lakewood coach, is the signing of one or two "name" coaches to conduct the week-long clinic that precedes the game.

Frank Leahy and Paul Bixler headed the clinic as well as coaching the teams in the first contest at Toledo in 1946, while Ray Eliot of Illinois and Ohio State's Wes Fesler did the same at Canton in 1947.

Chuck Mather of Hamilton (now coach at Massillon) and Harry Strobel of Barberton were the rival coaches this year.

Glenn (Tiger) Ellison of Middletown and Ray Schick of Newark will serve as co-coaches for the South squad in the 1949 game

ROME HIT BY STRIKE

ROME, Dec. 20—(AP)—A Communist-led 24-hour strike called by representatives of more than 1,000,000 government workers began today There was no immediate estimate of the effectiveness of the strike but the life of the nation's capital went on without serious disturbance. Municipal bus service was not affected and most stores in Rome opened as usual.

With snow falling on Shibe Park, Philadelphia, at the rate of three inches an hour, a shivering crowd watched as Philadelphia Eagles' Pritchard (30) gain five yards before being tackled by big Joe Coomer (50) of the Chicago Cardinals. RACING COMMISSION TO RULE ON TROTS

COLUMBUS, Dec 20—(AP)—The state racing commission is expected to decide today on application of Steubenville and Cranwood at Cleveland for harness racing dates.

The commission also will consider a U S Trotting association recommendation that all tracks be required to post a cash bond of $25,000. This might result in reducing the number of tracks in operation.

It was reported some commissioners feel Ohio already has more independent harness race meetings than it can support. Only Toledo's Fort Miami raceway was said to have showed a profit last season.

The other five tracks, Painesville, Troy, Marion, Hilliard and Lebanon, all lost money in various amounts topped by $52,000 at Lebanon.

If the commission awards dates to all eight applicants, three tracks will be in operation at the same time, instead of two each, as last year. Some track observers said this would cause a shortage of horses.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON WAR LAWS SEEN

WASHINGTON, Dec 20—(AP)—President Truman may send a special message to the new congress asking standby powers to put the whole nation into fighting harness immediately if any war emergency arises

Planning officials said today that the proposed national war emergency act, embracing a score of board controls over industry, labor and trade, probably will be ready for final approval of the national security resources board by mid-January.

Because of the measure's importance and vast scope, officials reported that if Mr. Truman approves the proposals he probably will devote a separate message to it instead of trying to summarize it in his forthcoming state of the union report.

The legislation would give the President authority, in case of direct foreign attack on this country—to clamp a "quick freeze" on prices and wages, halt job shifts, levy an excess profits tax, invoke priorities and ration scarce foods and clothing.

"Very rigid controls" over manpower—but not the outright labor draft advocated by some officials in the last war—are in the legislative blueprint, along with strike-settlement machinery including the right to seize mines, factories, railroads and other vital industries.

The staff of the NLRB, a spokesman said, has handed a tentative draft of the proposed law to Mr. Truman and to the seven cabinet members who make up the board.

SPIES

ing out into the open things government agents should have known and acted on long ago.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal reported over the weekend that last March he launched the campaign to coordinate the home front intelligence operations of the military services—the FBI secret service, state department and numerous other agencies.

He said that Attorney General Clark had suggested in February that in view of the development of the fifth column and other subversive techniques "it might be desirable to coordinate the work of these many agencies in the field of internal security."

Clark announced last week that he intends to ask the new congress to tighten the laws against spying so as to plug loopholes through which U. S. secrets have been sneaked out.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Dec. 20—(AP)—Prices were mixed in a narrow range at the opening of the stock market today.

Trading was quiet with few blocks of shares changing hands and the usual opening rush to execute orders died down within a short time.

A number of leading issues were unchanged and others were above or below the line by only a few eighths of a point.

Both Bethlehem and U. S. Steel were down ¼ while General Electric, Studebaker and New York Central gained ¼.

The cross currents of trading were in a pattern that characterized the past week when the market as a whole lost a little ground.

Indian Culture Change Noted by Excavators

By The United Press

BERKELEY, Calif.—University of California anthropologists, racing to complete excavations before the flooding of certain sections of California by U. S. Army engineers, have uncovered evidences of a culture change in the lives of western Mono Indians.

Students and scientists from the university, digging in an area which will be under water after completion of flood control dams, found relics 24 inches below the surface which included implements, potters and glass beads. These relics were of the period prior to 1850.

Four feet below the surface the scientists found relics several centuries older. There was no pottery only crude vessels cut from soapstone. This level disclosed no arrow heads, only crude spear points. There were also skeletons under rocks, indicating that cremation, practiced during the later period, had not yet been discovered.

A potluck supper was served and a gift exchange was held around a small decorated Christmas tree. Games provided entertainment. At the next meeting, Jan. 3, at the school the club will make a contribution to the March of Dimes.

In the United States there is an average of one theater seat for every 112 persons.

Carey Council Acts To Accept Cemetery Offer

Special to The Star

CAREY—The village council has voted to accept the transfer of Spring Grove cemetery, north of Carey, from the present towner, H. B. Keller, to the village.

In 1915 Mr. Keller purchased of Joseph F. Wonder the old cemetery comprising two acres and added four acres from the M. J. Ruffing farm. He has greatly improved the grounds until it is one of the most attractive cemeteries in this locality.

Under the state law it is impossible to sell the cemetery to private individuals, but it can be transferred to a township or village. Included in the transfer will be an endowment fund amounting to $16,056.59, deposited in four Toledo banks, besides the cemetery.

PAST PRESIDENTS MEET

The Past President's club of Whitney Lodge No. 846, Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, held a Christmas potluck dinner Monday night at the home of Mrs. Margaret Carder on Windsor street. Tables were decorated in keeping with the holiday theme, and favors were in red and green. During a short business meeting, a report was given of a bazaar held recently by the club. A Christmas gift exchange was held. The next meeting will be in January, the date to be announced later.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When a Cough Persists.

Coughing can be a very troublesome condition, especially at this season of the year Therefore, it behooves all of us to know what causes this condition

Coughing is caused by irritation of the lining membrane of the respiratory tract which starts with the nose and mouth and extends to the ends of the air sacs of the lungs. The irritation may be caused by cold air, irritating gases, or any respiratory infection. The coughing may be brought on, however, by disturbances in other parts of the body, such as the lymph glands under the breast bone; by heart disorders, and any condition affecting the lining membrane of the chest cavity Pressure on certain nerves running from the larynx or voice-box, due to enlargement of the large blood vessel coming from the heart, is responsible for a brassy cough

The first thing to do when a cough is present is to have a thorough examination made so that the exact cause may be determined and eliminated if possible There are, however, many suggestions for the management of a cough which may be helpful

Bed rest may cause the coughing to become less frequent, sometimes the cough will disappear entirely The air should be warm and moist. Hot, dry air may provoke and prolong the cough.

Treatment of a cough with medicines is also helpful. Sedatives or quieting drugs are often employed at the beginning, but of course these must be employed only as the physician directs Later, drugs which stimulate the secretions and "loosen" the cough may be employed All sources of irritation, such as smoking, should be eliminated

Drugs which can be used to stimulate the secretion formation include ammonium chloride, sodium citrate and such things as oil of turpentine, pine and anise

Of course, when infection is responsible for the cough, treatment with the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin is often necessary. The physician will decide when these preparations are required and will prescribe them in the proper dose

• • •

Questions and Answers

M S. My temperature is always 96 degrees. Is there any way to make it become normal again?

Answer: A subnormal temperature may indicate some deficiency of thyroid secretion.

You should have a careful study made to determine whether or not any abnormal condition is present in your case.

Mrs. Emma Langdon Heads Wayside Rose

Mrs. Emma Langdon was elected noble grand of Wayside Rose Lodge No. 508, Rebekahs, at the quarterly birthday dinner and Christmas party last week at the lodge hall. For the dinner, decorations were in keeping with the season, and a gift exchange was in charge of Mrs. Stoner. Mrs. Thursa Jones was chairman in charge. Three new members were received into the lodge. It was announced that there will be no lodge meeting again until Jan. 14.

Human ears can seldom hear the incessant clamor of the bat as he flits about overhead because the bat's signaling voice lies in the wave band of about 50,000 cycles or vibrations per second. Human ears can only detect sound in the band from 20 to 20,000 cycles.

Master Loophole

SEEMINGLY mindless of the fact it has been sentenced to death next year by White House decree, the house committee to investigate un-American activities is planning to call in Whittaker Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley to tell it how to plug loopholes in national security. They are qualified to give expert testimony. Both have admitted finding and using loopholes.

But the loopholes they found and used were really only loopholes within a master loophole. That was the political atmosphere of Washington during the thirties. The New Deal welcomed some of the strangest fish ever washed up on the banks of the Potomac—and not red herring, either.

When other Americans, frequently from the hinterlands, complained about the stench they were abused and reviled by official spokesmen of the Roosevelt administration. To all complaints, the New Dealers replied that the lop-sided proportion of half-baked and half-developed specimens on the federal payroll was none of the public's business, even though later it became necessary to spend the public's money to get rid of them through the threat of loyalty checkups and, in some cases, by the checkups themselves.

It would be interesting for the house committee to let Mr. Chambers and Miss Bentley tell what they know about the way fellow travelers seemed to have high priorities on federal job-holding under the New Deal.

Coming Out Even

AS CHRISTMAS shopping season trudges into its last week of selecting and selling, the importance of the calendar this year is brought into sharp focus.

Christmas in 1948 comes at the end of a full week, with five continuous shopping days preceding it. Last year it came on Thursday, splitting the week. Four years ago, in 1944, was the last time it was preceded by a full shopping week; Christmas was on Monday that year. In 1943, it came on Saturday, as it does this year.

In 1949 Christmas will come on Sunday, and in 1950 on Monday. But not until 1954 will shoppers and merchants again have the benefit of a full shopping week before the deadline of Christmas eve. While this may seem to be a superficial consideration, in merchandising it is a major element in the expectation of Christmas business. If this week is passed without a severe and widespread snowstorm, earlier prospects of a slump from the 1947 total volume of Christmas buying will be set aside, in large part by the anticipated volume of buying on the last two big shopping days before Christmas eve.

Exception to The Rule

WHILE it's true that you get what you pay for in government personnel, as it is everywhere else, the office of the Chief Executive may be an exception. Men do not seek the presidency of the United States for the money that's in it.

Former President Hoover is suggesting in his thinking about the matter of raising top federal salaries that it might be better to leave the presidential salary of $75,000 where it is and relieve the President of White House expenses instead. This would average out at a substantially higher "take-home" pay for the Chief Executive.

It would have another advantage worth mentioning. It would give more private citizens, such as ball players, pugilists, radio and movie stars and top-flight executives the privilege of continuing to boast that they're pulling down more money than the President of the United States, which is an American incentive that shouldn't be taken lightly.

Natural Forces

THE best laid plans of mice, men and bureaucrats are never immune to a pesky thing known as natural forces. Britain's labor government ran head-on into bad weather during its first year of power and couldn't lick an acute shortage of electric power. Another kind of bad weather may be in store for the planners in this country who have been preoccupied with inflation.

They may discover that natural forces have been developing another problem which would be harder to handle than inflation. The fact is that inflation in scattered areas of the economic system already is yielding to natural forces, such as the force that makes supply catch up to demand when high prices spur high production.

Members of the 80th congress who argued that the only way to beat inflation was to take the hobbles off production were right, though they misjudged the time that would be required to stabilize the two major factors in the pricing system. They thought supply would catch up to demand in a hurry, perhaps because they underestimated the impact of a swollen money supply on purchasing power. It hasn't happened in a hurry, but it has been happening. Natural forces haven't been suspended. The law of supply and demand is still on the books, as the economic planners may discover to their consternation before many more have passed.

Comments on Spy Probe Motives Now Out of Place

WASHINGTON

IT ISN'T particularly important whether President Truman dislikes the house committee on un-American activities or whether he thinks its investigation was a "red herring." It isn't even important whether Mr. Truman is or is not giving the American people a wrong impression about his own attitude toward the whole anti-Communist investigation.

What is important is that, despite all the political bickering, some very significant facts have been revealed which are shocking.

Documents containing the secret correspondence of the United States with its diplomatic representatives abroad were taken from government files 10 years ago and found their way into the hands of a self-confessed spy for Soviet Russia.

The methods by which this information was uncovered may have been clumsy and open to severe criticism. Methods of congressional committees have always been subject to accusations of unfairness because of the tendency to call witnesses and leave implications concerning their alleged guilt.

• • •

BUT THE FACTS have come to light now and the processes of governmental prosecution are at work. All the ends sought by the house committee — which was primarily trying to show that looseness existed in the executive branch of the government—have been in the main accomplished. The very idea, however, that any committee has achieved a "victory," as mentioned by one of the press association dispatches, is repugnant to thoughtful people, who do not believe these procedures should be matters of contest or rivalry between anyone.

The department of justice has been attacked as unco-operative, the theory being that it was not willing to put President Truman on the spot because during the campaign he called the inquiry a "red herring." But the department cannot proceed in the spotlight of publicity, and what happens in a grand jury room must necessarily remain secret anyway. The fact that the the statue of limitations had run on any act of thievery 10 years ago made it impossible to consider seriously any indictments of persons allegedly engaged in such rifling of the files. This means that, no matter how sensational the disclosures, there was no way of indicting anybody for an offense alleged to have been committed a decade ago. The federal law says that, after a certain number of years, there can be no prosecution.

• • •

WHEN AN INDICTMENT was finally handed down in New York last week, it was not on the basis of any accusation of theft of files as such but on the charge that perjury was committed by a witness before the grand jury. This now confines the prosecution to a narrow field, but it illustrates just the same why the department of justice was not able to arrest a lot of people heretofore and accuse them of spying or stealing files.

The house committee, on the other hand, was in a position to investigate anything. The very looseness of the procedures in congressional committees enables a certain amount of exposure to be done even after the statute of limitations has run. If the subject is one with which the people are deeply concerned, they overlook the extremes of such procedure and think the congressional purpose is a beneficial one. If, on the other hand, it never is proved that any of the present persons accused were actually guilty, the committee will have done a disservice in publicizing the names of innocent persons.

• • •

A MERE INDICTMENT is not tantamount to a conviction. It is simply an accusation deemed sufficiently important to bring about a trial in court. Here the accused is innocent until actually proved guilty. Until then opinions must be suspended and headlines that create any prejudices must be dismissed from the minds of those who may be called to try the case.

There is no doubt that political motives before the election played a part in the debate about the value of the house committee on un-American activities. Unquestionably the Republicans were making capital out of the Chambers-Hiss case during the campaign. But the developments about hidden microfilms came after the election and should have been treated on a non-partisan basis.

Mr. Truman may still condemn the house committee for its methods—opinions will differ on the value of such committees and certainly there is need for rules to protect innocent witnesses—but the case has now gone to the courts. Hence any comments from the President or anyone else, giving the impression that the work of the grand jury was motivated by any considerations other than the public interest, will not be received as just or fair by the public.

Decoding Messages

By Clarke Beach

WASHINGTON

GOVERNMENT cryptographers got a bad jolt when they learned that decoded messages had been taken from the State department files in 1937 and 1938 for delivery to Russian agents.

The microfilmed documents which Whittaker Chambers hid in a pumpkin on his Maryland farm and then turned over to the house un-American activities committee might have furnished priceless clues to foreign code experts.

Coded messages sent by radio or cable are easily intercepted by interested governments. If they can get possession of the same messages decoded, they can go a long way toward breaking an entire code system.

One or even several messages might not do it. A great many must usually be obtained and over a long period of time. For codes are frequently alternated—hourly, daily, monthly or yearly.

But any decoded message might fill in the final gap in a code-breaking job which might have been going on for years.

Breaking American codes would have been much easier before the war than now. Early in the war the State department and armed services began to make a widespread use of code machines. With these a great many more code systems can be employed, and they can be changed more frequently.

• • •

CODE MAKING and code breaking is an age-old war between cryptographers and cryptoanalysts. The former devise the codes, and the latter try to break them.

American cryptoanalysts achieved a gigantic victory when they broke the Japanese and German codes before the last war. What they had done was revealed in the congressional Pearl Harbor investigation in 1945.

After years of arduous effort they devised a machine which decoded messages that might have lost the war for the Japanese. Next to the atomic bomb project it was perhaps the most secret operation of the war.

With the machine our government learned of Japanese preparations for the attack on Pearl Harbor and facts about Jap naval activities which led to our victories in the Coral Sea and at Midway. It directed U. S. subs in attacks on Jap convoys. It revealed the messages from the Japanese ambassador in Berlin, sometimes telling what Hitler had said of his war plans.

The Japanese didn't change their code all during the war. It would have been difficult for them to do so because of the complexity of their language.

Whatever might have been learned of the American codes through the Chambers documents would have benefited a foreign power only for a limited time, since even then we changed our code systems at intervals.

INFINITE precautions, moreover, are taken to keep coded messages secret. A furst principle is never to let a copy of the code message be attached to or identified with the same message decoded. For highly secret messages, the code is as complex as possible, requiring the solution of a whole series of ciphers or codes before the message can be read in the clear.

Personnel in code rooms are the most carefully screened of any. And a great effort is made to keep the personnel turnover as low as possible. The staff is well paid and well cared for.

A large number of systems are employed. Some are simple, when the intention is only to temporarily prevent the general public from learning the content of a message. Some of the most important are one-time codes, understood by only a few persons and never used but once.

Practically any code can be broken, say the experts, if you have enough time and a large enough staff. But it isn't practicable when codes are being changed frequently. Also there are only a limited number of experts who can be put to work on any one problem.

Some cryptographic writings, like those of Roger Bacon, thirteenth century philosopher, have never been deciphered.

The experts distinguish between code and cipher writings. Code writing, strictly speaking, is based on handbooks containing words or letter groupings which have hidden meanings. Ciphers are devices by which hidden meanings are expressed in a plain text or a meaningless jumble of letters or figures.

• • •

THE MACHINES now in use—of which scores have been patented—are based on both systems. Like calculating machines, they do the job quicker and more accurately than people could do with pencil and paper.

The Navy makes wide use of code books—bound in lead so that they can be thrown overboard in case a ship is captured or sunk. Armies in the field prefer ciphers, since the key is in the operator's mind and cannot fall into the enemy's hands. Higher headquarters, however, use code books or machines.

Code messages are also widely used in finance and trade, primarily because code words save space and money in wire and radio transmission. Most of them are based on code books in general circulation. Some companies, however, have cryptographers devise special codes for them. They pay as much as $100,000 for one code system.

The Role of Alger Hiss

By Mark Sullivan

WASHINGTON

THE indictment of Alger Hiss does not stand alone, far from it. Rarely was a single event so easy to identify as a piece in the jigsaw picture of world conditions. Yet while the piece is easy to identify, putting it in place is difficult. To fit the jagged edges of the Hiss affair into the whole pattern of the panorama calls for further revelations about the panorama, which without doubt will come; they are already emerging.

Mr. Hiss, in 1937-38, was in a high place in the state department. It is now alleged he passed out secret documents to a man who was a member of the Communist party and an agent of the Russian government. This allegation Mr. Hiss denied under oath in a grand jury inquiry. Based partly on his denial, the grand jury last week indicted him for perjury. The trial for perjury will presumably bring out whatever may be the facts about the allegation that he gave out government documents.

• • •

AS A START toward fitting this into the whole jigsaw of world conditions, turn to an event apparently remote. On the same day that Mr. Hiss was indicted, news came from China that the Communist army attempting to seize the government had reached such a degree of success that the government might recognize them and make them part of a coalition government. Assuming this news is correct, it portends Communist control of China. What apparently may be taking place in China is tragically suggestive of what took place in Czechoslovakia — first recognition of the Communists and a share in the government, then overthrow of the government and control of the country by the Communists.

The effect of Communist control of China, if it should take place, can be measured by the estimate put upon it when it was still merely a danger. From Communist sources and non-Communist ones, including official ones or ones otherwise authoritative, and including also American sources, a general judgment was that China was the principal key to the whole Communist and Russian purpose of world domination. A collateral judgment was that Russian Communist control of China would be a threat to the United States of the utmost seriousness.

• • •

FOR RESISTING the Communist drive to take over China, the chief hope of the Nationalist Chinese government was help from the United States. We recognized our interest. Ever since the drive began, our attitude toward China has been a major problem of our foreign policy.

Without emphasizing the Hiss affair too much, without making any implication about it bearing in mind that the Hiss affair is so far only an indictment remaining to be tried in court and that a defendant is innocent until proved guilty—with all these limitations the fact remains, significant at least as a symbol, that the position Mr. Hiss held was one in which the holder might, if he chose, influence our policy toward China. Among the several posts he held in the state department, he was, in 1944, a special assistant in the office of far eastern affairs, which area includes China. More potent in the possibility at least of influence, he in 1945 accompanied President Roosevelt to the conference at Yalta. At this conference Roosevelt made, with Premier Stalin of Russia, agreements having to do with China, which agreements, it is the common judgment, were to the advantage of Russia and to the detriment of the Chinese government as respects its power to resist the Communist drive to overcome it.

• • •

AS AN EXTREME minimum, the Hiss affair is a detail, having one weight or another or none, in the relations of our own government to Russia during the war, following it, and since. And the relations of our government to Russia are the largest single factor in world history during the period, and in the present world problem.

The Hiss affair has a place also in another phase of history, the story of the New Deal. Without overemphasizing Mr. Hiss or implying any more than may be perhaps superficial coincidence, it is at the least interesting and possibly symbolic that he was in government posts throughout the whole period of the New Deal administration. Beginning in 1933 he was at various times assistant general counsel in the agricultural adjustment administration, legal assistant to the senate committee investigating the munitions industry, special attorney in the department of justice; holder of several posts, some of them high, in the state department. Two posts he held were international. In 1944 he was executive secretary of the Dumbarton Oaks Conference, in 1945 he was secretary-general of the United Nations conference on international organization at San Francisco.

Yet another phase of history in which the Hiss affair has a place is the whole 10-year story of the house committee on un-American activities, before which the evidence in the Hiss affair was given.

The Once Over

The Horse and The Budget

"A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a ho[rse]" used to be a quotation from Shakespeare, [but] is rapidly becoming a slogan in State bud[get] making bodies

• • •

There are states in America which right [now] could use a jockey, a set of scales and a ba[le] hay on the State flag. We have legislat[ive] which might well be opened with a hym[n] Man o' War

• • •

The horsey mood is so pronounced in mo[st] ranking departments of community-gover[n] bodies that the horsefly may be said to [be] coming back.

• • •

And nowhere has the picture been painted completely as down in Miami by a recent p[ro]posal to have race tracks open betting ro[om]s on the street corners to protect the State [in]dustry from any decline in its cut in that gr[eat] American routine known as "Operation T[win] Dollar Bet."

• • •

There is evidence everywhere that Amer[ica] may be putting the "cut" before the horse.

• • •

City and State governments have been thro[w]ing off plenty of old-fashioned conservat[ism] with regard of race tracks, but down in Mia[mi], Fla., the out and out suggestion that raci[ng] associations be authorized by law to open b[et]ting centers away from the track has ev[en] racing interests apprehensive. In no instan[ce] so far has any community come out so oper[ate] as the alarmed cash partner in the horse ga[m]bling routine.

• • •

Other states have talked of opening Sta[te] operated betting rooms, which smells no sweet[er] morally, but this idea that the racing intere[sts] do it is a new one. In any case it boils do[wn] to the simple fact that our legislators, for ga[m]erations, uninclined to bless betting on t[he] ponies, have found so much easy dough in it f[or] budget balancing that any slight decline in t[he] "cut" gives them the "jitterwhoppers."

• • •

Governors have come to depend on the Stat[e] percentage to make both ends meet, legislatur[es] include the two-buck bettor's contribution [in] their calculations for new spending progra[ms] and mayors at many points say, "We can do [it] with the horses' help" in considering many [a] new project.

• • •

Today the community screams louder than t[he] race track owner when the two-dollar plung[er] slows up. The reaction of Miami to the decli[ne] in horse track income was almost too fast f[or] the naked eye. New speed records were set f[or] "something - must - be - done-at-once" routine[s]. The cry of "Let's open betting rooms on all t[he] street corners rang across the dunes and up a[nd] down the beaches, Florida could hardly wait f[or] the low race track betting figures to be ma[de] official.

EDGAR BERGEN is to quit radio after Chri[st]mas. Maybe he wants to give the public [a] chance to check on his imitators and see h[ow] awful they are.

We assume the football coaches would conte[nd] that the Republicans lost the recent elect[ion] because they didn't use the two-platoon syste[m]. There should have been one set of candidates [to] attack and one for defense.

All-Americans

By Truman Twill

With due apologies to all-American football players, who are fine specimens of young manhood and will go onward and upward to bigger and better things in their chosen profession, a few other all-American selections are in order:

All-American Hand-Biter: Harold (Call Me Curmudgeon) Ickes who picked Dewey to win, managed to squelch publication of the newspaper column in which he said so, then jumped on all other newspaper columnists and newspapers which picked Dewey to win.

All-American Stool Pigeon: Whittaker Chambers, who found a new lyric to "sing" for government investigators when a $75,000 libel [suit] confronted him with a hard choice between shutting up or putting up more evidence against Alger Hiss.

All-American Dinner Jacket Pugilist: Errol Flynn of the flickers, who puts up a stiff fight in a stiff shirt and keeps a stiff upper lip while the ensuing publicity puts his pictures in all the papers.

All-American Suppliant: Madame Chiang Kai-shek, who brings a whiff of the exotic to her dreary chore of putting the bite on high officials in Washington for more cash for China.

All-American Man of Mystery: Henry Wallace, who has disappeared back into the woodwork, or the chicken house, or the fields of hybrid corn, or wherever it is he hides out between tours to stir up the lunatic fringe.

All-American Martyr to Hazards of the Hour: Mrs. Alice Addis, 23-year-old Los Angeles bride who scalped herself in a clothes wringer, was rushed to the hospital where her scalp was sewed back on and who will send out the laundry when she recovers.

All-American Man of Patience: Secretary of State Marshall who keeps plugging away at the age of 68, paying no attention to bubble-heads who accuse him of everything under the sun, even of faking the condition which recently sent him to the hospital for removal of a kidney.

All-American Messenger Boy: The substitute name unknown, who gallops from the bench to the football huddle with the latest orders from the coach who calls all the plays from the bench—then gallops back and waits for further orders.

All-American Man of Distinction: Santa Claus, who somehow manages to preserve the most beautiful illusion of childhood; namely that things are to be had in this world for the asking.

All-American Woman of the Year: Bess Truman, who never liked the White House much, got the first place and now must camp out in temporary quarters while a lot of plasterers, electricians and fellows with blueprints rebuild it to suit—not Bess but themselves.

Turkey To Open a Free Port

By The Associated Press

ISTANBUL—Iskenderun, Turkey's deep water port in the Hatay, is to become a "free port, according to reports from Ankara.

Under the plan, foreign nations will be permitted to unload cargo for transshipment without customs formalities.

The plan would give Turkey additional foreign currency through payments for labor, warehousing space and dock facilities.

Newlyweds Warned on Honks

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY—The Kansas City police department is issuing notes of congratulations to altar-bound couples. But there's a catch. After reading the felicitations, the couples note that the police department does not feel that a procession of honking automobiles is a legitimate part of the wedding ceremony. The note warns that continual honking is a violation of the city's anti-noise ordinances.

Carols Have Survived Centuries of Censure

By The Associated Press

Carols [illegible] everyone at Christmas time because of the [illegible] they create, are among the oldest forms of music. The first of them was the carol of the Heavenly Host over the plains of Bethlehem [illegible] the British Museum in London executed in the thirteenth century.

The carol, perhaps the earliest form of the song and dance known to man, the derivation of the word itself being somewhat uncertain.

The three accepted derivatives are cantare, the Latin word for to sing, and rola which is a joyous interjection. Some musicologists however, find a different interpretation and contend that the word stems from the early word for chorus. Even more intriguing is the belief by some students that there is a relationship between druidical rites at Stonehenge in England, that mystic ring of monoliths. Carol is seen to be a vulgarization of Koroll, a circle, which came to mean a ring dance. Early records contain references to Stonehenge as "the carol."

• • •

THE FIRST BOOK of carols was "auctorised by my lord of London" in 1562 and bore the title page "Christenmasse Carowles." Some of these were legendary and were drawn from the Coventry Mystery Play "Joseph Was an Old Man," also from some of the English folk tunes, used as the vehicle for words relating to the Christ Child.

There seems little doubt that there is a pagan throwback to the carols carried into the Christian church. Religious dances were of record in Spain in the fifth century when the choir boys equipped with the castanets capered, singing, around the lectern.

• • •

CAROLLING reached its musical height during the days of the Tudors although there is an historic reference in 1528 to the fact that when Henry III lay very ill he forbade "carols, bells and merrymaking."

The Puritans endeavored to do away with carols, holding that they had no religious significance and the Scottish people at an even earlier date had tried to suppress the lighter carols considering them "popish" and "pernicious."

As time went along, there was a tendency to widen the horizon of the carol and some of the good old drinking tunes were employed for the sacred words denoting the birth of Christ—no irreverence being intended, since carols were usually regarded as festive music.

• • •

THE CUSTOM of singing carols from door to door is almost as old as the carols themselves. The first form was that of the watch maintained in nearly all English mediaeval cities. The men of the watch would sing carols accompanied by a flageolet and they would collect pence from the gentry. In the West Riding of Yorkshire today children parade from house to house with "dolly" boxes (milady boxes) in which there is a crib and a recumbent babe and into which the money offered them is placed.

Raised among the most famous Christmas carols is "While Shepherds Watch Their Flocks by Night" written by Nahum Tate in 1703.

Charles Wesley in the eighteenth century wrote "Hark, How All the Welkin Rings" later paraphrased to "Hark the Herald Angels Sing." "Good King Wenceslas which denotes the Christmas charity of the Bohemian monarch also ranks high. The repertoire increased as the carol custom spread through Europe to become known as Noels in France, and Weigenlied in Germany.

G-2 CHIEF DETAILS GOERING CAPTURE

By International News Service

CHARDON, O.—Ellis C. Vander Ply, army chief of intelligence and member of the capturing party, recently gave a vivid eye-witness account of the capture of Herman Goering, one-time commander of the German Luftwaffe. Vander Ply said:

"I advanced to the car in which Goering was riding with his pistol in hand. I had my hand on the handle of the car door. It opened, and 265-pound Goering in a huge overcoat backed out.

"He looked like a circus tent with a man's head sticking out the top.

"I helped Goering's companion, Emma, and reached in to get the daughter little Edda. She snarled and tried to bite me. I pulled her out by her seat and pig tails.

"The child and I later became good friends and I frequently gave her candy. There were 18 cars in Goering's party.

"Goering insisted on seeing General Eisenhower. He had washed his shirt during the night and when our party was ready to move with him the next morning he asked that we wait until nine-thirty instead of nine so his shirt would dry.

"The party moved at the scheduled time of nine."

Vander Ply said that Goering was brilliant and dominated his group. He said he saw the former German air ace score 149.2 in an intelligence test in which the top score was 150.

"Goering boasted that in the conquest of France in 1940, 70,000 German troops licked six and a half million Frenchmen. He said that Communists had undermined France and the German Army just gave it a little push.

"The last time that I was going home to the states [illegible]

Vander Ply said his squad broke into Goering's treasure hideout and found American thousand dollar bills wrapped with a Chase National Bank wrap. The Ohio intelligence officer was among the first to enter Hitler's Berchtesgarden. He said it really was beautiful.

Be women control wealth of this country?

Today it is believed that women of this nation receive more than two-thirds of the value of all legacies and more than 80 per cent of all the death claims paid by life insurance companies go to women. It would certainly seem, therefore, that women control a great deal of the wealth of our country.

Here, we always welcome women. We like them to feel free at all times to come to us and discuss any financial problem that they may have. May we serve you"

Better than You Bargained for

HERE'S a case where patience pays off—and how!

For if you're one of those who have been waiting your turn on a Buick dealer's list—1949 is going to reward you handsomely.

Look over the sleek carriage that will roll up to your door on D-for-Delivery Day.

Take in the grace of it, the sweeping lines, the bold, gleaming chrome, the precise and perfect styling of every detail from grille to taillight.

Take in that big broad windshield, gracefully curving back to narrow corner posts, and the new visibility of definitely stepped-up window area.

Slip in and size up the room—room for arms and legs and elbows—room overhead, cunningly provided by super-soft cushions you sit in not on.

Step on the gas treadle and thrill to the lift and swing of Fireball power, cradled on Hi-Poised engine mountings for velvety smoothness.

Then note this: On every 1949 ROADMASTER that sensational engineering success, Dynaflow Drive, is standard equipment. On all Buicks this super-smooth drive is yours as optional equipment at extra cost.

And wherever there's Dynaflow, there's lasting engine quiet and efficiency from self-adjusting valve lifters that keep valve-fit factory right.

Clearly, this all means you get more than you bargained for when you first placed your order. More room, more visibility, more ease, more comfort—more value for every dollar.

Just check the price tags up and down Automobile Row—and you'll congratulate yourself that you got your order in!

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE*
FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area
